NEW YORK, May 19.—Sweeping charges of a gigantic conspiracy to maintain high prices, to blacklist concerns not regarded as "proper" trade, and to violate generally the Sherman anti-trust law, are made in a government suit filed by Attorney General Wickensham in the United States Court here today against the so-called lumber trust.

The defendants named in the suit, and who are alleged to have conspired among themselves, and with the assistance of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association, to have prevented wholesalers from selling directly or indirectly to consumers, are:

The Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, a New York corporation, with offices at No. 13 Broadway, New York.

The New York Lumber Trade Association of New York City.

The Building Material Men's Association of Westchester County, New York.

The Lumber Dealers' Association of Connecticut.

The Massachusetts Retail Lumber Dealers' Association.

The Lumber Dealers' Association of Rhode Island.

The Retail Lumbermen's Association of Baltimore.

The officers and directors, trustees and members of the above are named as individual defendants, as well as the officers and directors and members of the three following voluntary organizations:

The New Jersey Lumbermen's Protective Association.

The Retail Lumbermen's Association of Philadelphia.

The Lumber Exchange of the District of Columbia.

The government asks for a permanent injunction restraining the defendants from continuing the conspiracy charged.

The suit may be the first of several planned by the Department of Justice against combinations of retailers in staple commodities and the necessities of life, to prevent the ultimate

NEW YORK, May 19.—A chain of mail bombs, apparently all arranged on a single fuse like a string of Chinese firecrackers, caused a series of explosions in the hallway of a four-story Italian tenement on East Eleventh street early today. Sixteen families were thrown into panic and crowded the fire escapes. Two policemen had difficulty in restraining some of the occupants from jumping to the pavement. A thousand dollars' worth of damage was done to the walls of the building, but nobody was injured.

Trapped in a little room in Barnum's old restaurant, the resort for the past generation of politicians, judges, attorneys and financiers, Henry P. Dalton, assessor of Alameda county for the past sixteen years, was arrested late yesterday and at midnight last night was formally charged with soliciting and accepting a bribe from the Spring Valley

Water Company for "shaving" the assessment on property. The circumstances leading up to and surrounding the capture of the official form a fitting prelude to what promises to be one of the most sensational legal battles in the history of California. Dalton, who has been the storm center of official investigations in Alameda county since he assumed office, fell into a carefully laid trap prepared for him by District Attorney William H. Donahue, who was assisted by high officials of the Spring Valley Water Company. The marked money he received yesterday afternoon was solicited by him from the company, the district attorney declares, after he had attempted to alarm the corporation by threats of a material raise in the assessed valuation of their holdings in Alameda county. Currency carefully checked over, numbered and marked with a secret sign, was found on the person of the accused county official at the time of his arrest. The sum was $5000, the first payment on a $25,000 bribe, declared to have been solicited from the corporation on the

Witnesses Called and Case Goes Rapidly Forward; Assessor Greets Friends Affably

At 3 o'clock this afternoon John E. Behan, secretary of the Spring Valley Water Company, was still before the grand jury in the investigation of County Assessor Henry P. Dalton for bribery. Behan this afternoon elaborated his testimony of the forenoon by explaining the action of the water company after he had reported Dalton's proposition to him. He said that Vice-president Eastman communicated the matter immediately to the executive committee of the corporation and that it was upon the advice of the executive committee that Eastman presented the transaction to the attention of District Attorney Donahue.

Developments of a most sensational and dramatic character crowded upon each other in kaleidoscopic succession today at the Court House, in the case of County Assessor Henry P. Dalton, arrested yesterday on a charge of accepting $5000 bribe from the Spring Valley Water Company. District Attorney William H. Donahue was the first of the principals in this remarkable official drama to arrive upon the scene. He reached his office in his automobile at 7 o'clock and from that moment the wheels of the prosecution began to turn under the impetus of his energetic initiative. By 8 o'clock Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes and Deputy District Attorney Leon A. Clark, acting with their chief in the case, were at their desks ready for work and before 9 o'clock, when the members of the Grand Jury began to arrive in obedience to summons, the corridors of the court house were thronged by spectators greedy for every bit of news and gossip about the case that found currency. Newspaper reporters and photographers were in evidence everywhere and throughout the forenoon the great building where justice is dispensed was like a human beehive.

Attorneys Edward E. Gehring and Burton J. Wyman, two of his legal advisers. Earlier in the morning he had engaged the law firm of Fitzgerald & Abbott to head his battery of legal counsel and appeared before Police Judge Mortimer Smith for arraignment on the felony charge of soliciting and accepting a bribe. Being at liberty under a bond of $25,000, after the proceedings in Judge Smith's court Dalton walked down Broadway with the attorneys and approached the Court House with his familiar swinging gait, head thrown back and his face wreathed in smiles. He saluted friends and acquaintances he met affably and as he ascended the Court House steps he bowed right and left, greeting everybody in sight with a cordial "good morning."

Newspaper photographers crowded about him and he stopped and posed for them. Then he went straight to his office where he remained the rest of the morning, meeting friends and accepting most graciously their congratulations and solicitations for his welfare. When asked by the newspaper men for a statement Dalton said he had done all the talking he cared to do for the present and referred them to his attorneys. Both Gehring and Wyman said they had nothing to say and when Attorneys Fitzgerald & Abbott were seen they, too, declared that for the present they had no statement to make.

Jury Assembles

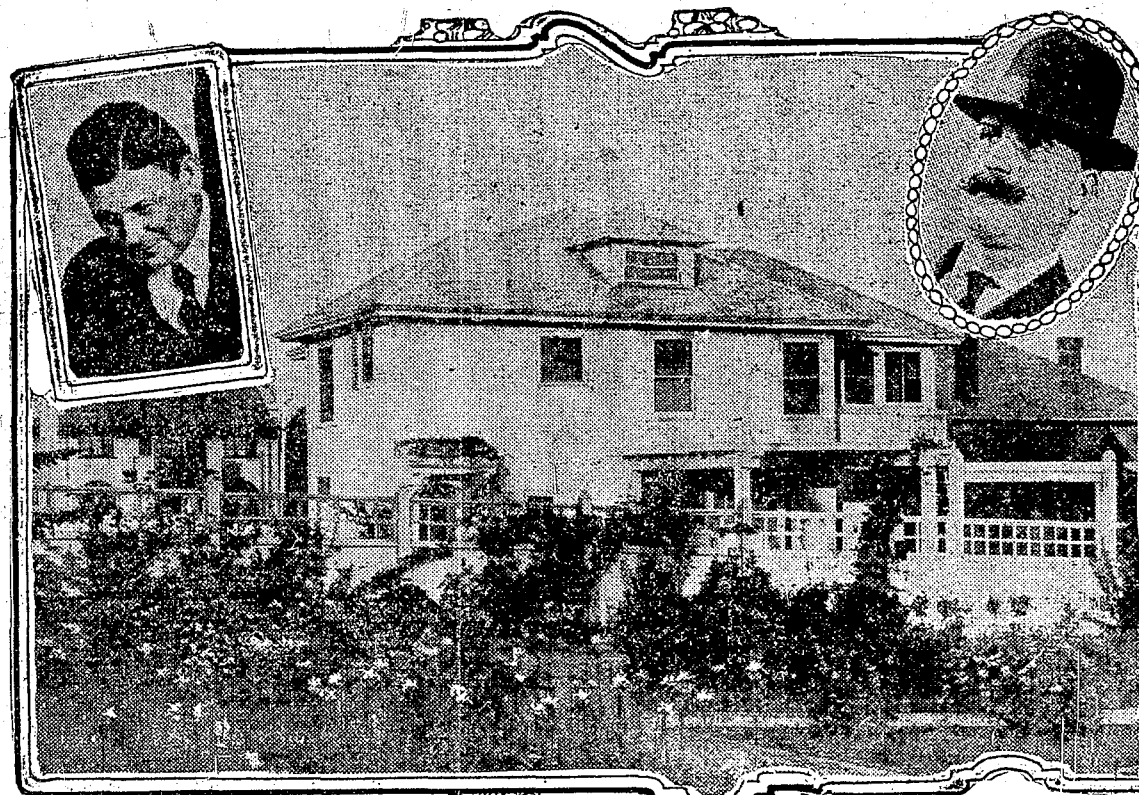

The Grand Jury assembled in the Juvenile Court room on the lower floor of the court house and a deputy sheriff was stationed at the only accessible entrance to the department to make the crowd keep its distance. District Attorney Donahue made frequent trips from his office to the Grand Jury room and then about 10 o'clock he called the newspaper men together and announced that if an indictment was to be found against Dalton it would not be returned to the criminal department of the Superior Court, Judge J. E. Prewett of Placer county presiding, until late in the afternoon. He said he was not sure that an indictment would be found today, declaring that the case was of such gravity and importance that it was the intention of both himself and the Grand Jury to proceed carefully with the investigation of the bribery case.

In the first place, the District Attorney began a very thorough investigation of the qualifications of each of the jurors to return an indictment to guard against any loophole in this direction that Dalton might try to take advantage of. This inquiry consumed practically all of the remainder of the morning and resulted so far as could be learned in the District Attorney satisfying himself that the members of the inquisitorial body were all competent to sit in the case.

Witnesses Present

Among the witnesses on hand to testify were, aside from the District Attorney, S. P. Eastman, vice-president and general manager of the Spring Valley Water Company; Warren Olney Jr., attorney for the corporation; Detectives John Helms of the District Attorney's office and St. Clair Hodgkins of the Oakland Police Department, together with other parties whose names the District Attorney refused to divulge for the present and who he managed most effectively to keep in the background. Dalton was served in his office by Deputy Sheriff William Moffitt with a summons to appear before the inquisitorial body. He accepted the subpoena without a word, but afterwards it was announced by Attorney Gehring that Dalton would not testify. In this matter he would act upon the advice of his counsel and when he appeared before the Grand Jury, which he would be compelled to do when called, he would refuse to testify on the ground that what he would say might jeopardize his interests and incriminate himself. It is possible that Dalton may not have been called before the jury, but this remains for the investigation to develop.

Examine Witnesses

The examination of witnesses by the Grand Jury began shortly before the noon hour, when the first to be called was Thomas M. Robinson, chief deputy county assessor. He remained with the inquisitors only a few moments and was questioned with reference to the records of the assessment of Spring Valley property in Alameda county. He was followed by Lee Wells, an outside deputy assessor and Deputy Assessor John Heddenmark, the real estate expert in the County Assessor's office. The testimony of these latter witnesses going to show the valuation of Spring Valley property, the manner in which it has been assessed and the amount of the assessments in past years. All of this testimony was for the purpose of enlightening the members of the Grand Jury upon the salient features of Spring Valley assessments, the manner in which it has been customary to make them and the reductions made by the county assessor in the company's assessment for the year 1909.

Johnston Called

Chief Deputy County Clerk A. E. Johnston was the next witness called. He produced the record of the County Assessor's official bond and testified as to its authenticity. The record showed that Dalton qualified on his bond for his present term of office on November 29, 1910. The bond is in the sum of $20,000 and on it appear the names of H. N. Dalton, father of the County Assessor, and Frank N. Dalton, one of the accused official's brothers, as sureties. Following Chief Deputy Johnston as a witness came John Behan, secretary of the Spring Valley Water Company, with whom Dalton is alleged to have had the first two interviews with reference to the $25,000 bribe which led to his arrest yesterday afternoon. Behan told the inquisitorial body that Dalton first made the bribe proposition to him. This was in the month of March, he testified, when he called on Dalton in his office in response to a telephone message inviting an interview. At this meeting, the witness said, Dalton said that he was contemplating raising the Spring Valley assessment from about $4,500,000, where it has approximately stood for several years, and on this proposition there was a long discussion. Dalton did not brook the subject of a bribe, however, at this conference.

Second Meeting

About ten days after this interview, Behan told the inquisitors, Dalton called him across the bay for another interview. It was at this conference, the witness testified, that Dalton declared his intention to "get even" for the loss of his fat salary and commissions amounting to about $20,000 a year through the enactment of the law cutting off the commissioners and placing his office on a straight salary basis of $7,000 a year. Dalton said at this time that his last campaign for office had cost him in the neighborhood of $30,000 and that he intended to repay himself. Then, Behan testified, Dalton said something to this effect: "What would you people do for me if instead of raising your assessment I should cut it down by about $2,500,000?" Behan testified that this took him off his feet and he replied, "What do you mean, Mr. Dalton?"

Evasion Ends

Then it was that Dalton, according to Behan, ceased his evasion and came out in the open. He proposed to cut down the assessment by $2,500,000. This, he said, would save the Spring Valley people $50,000 a year in taxes, or a total of $200,000 during the four years that he remained in office. Then Dalton explained his scheme in detail. He told Behan that the company would not only profit by the reduced assessment but would make a big saving in taxes, and this he promised to do for $25,000. Behan testified that he told Dalton he would take the proposition under advisement and refer it to other officers of the Spring Valley Water Company. He reported the matter to President William B. Bourne, who was about to leave for a trip abroad, and was instructed by him to lay the matter before Vice-President Eastman. Behan was still in the jury room when an adjournment was taken at 12:15 o'clock for lunch, and at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon the inquisitorial body reconvened and Behan resumed his testimony.

DONAHUE TELLS OF CAPTURE RECITES HISTORY OF THE CASE

By WM. H. DONAHUE, District Attorney of Alameda County.

I would much prefer to say nothing until the People's case is presented to a jury; but, inasmuch as this is a matter wherein the taxpayers of Alameda county were boldly and basely sold out and betrayed by a public servant, Henry P. Dalton, County Assessor, I deem it my duty as District Attorney to make a brief statement to the people of this county. Dalton "stood up" the Spring Valley Water Company, but instead of complying with his demands the company at once reported the matter to me; and working under my direct instructions for over a month past, we finally have caught Dalton with the bribe money, which he solicited, on his person.

This is not a case of the water company seeking to bribe Dalton or even approaching him in the first instance. On the contrary, in March of this year, Dalton, of his own volition, sent for a representative of the Spring Valley Water Company and when an officer of the company called in response to Dalton's request, Dalton immediately informed him that it was his intention to materially raise the assessment of the company for the ensuing year; and using this threat as a wedge Dalton laid the foundation for his opportunity subsequently to demand a bribe.

MENTIONS REDUCED SALARY.

When Dalton thought the company had been sufficiently frightened he again sent word that he desired another conference and upon this occasion he informed the company's representative that his salary and fees had been reduced by the Legislature from $25,000 to $7,000 per year, and that his last campaign expenses amounted to $30,000; that he, Dalton, proposed to "get even"; and did not care whether he held the office another term or not; and warning up to his subject he then offered not to raise the Spring Valley at all and in addition that he would reduce the present assessment of the Spring Valley Water Company two and a half million dollars, which would mean a reduction in its taxes of some $50,000 per year, and for this betrayal of the taxpayers of Alameda county he demanded a bribe of $25,000.

Last year the Spring Valley Water Company was assessed in this county for about four and a half million dollars; and Dalton took occasion to point out that this reduction would not only be a saving to the water company in taxes of $50,000 for this year, but that this arrangement would continue for his full term of four years; and that thereby the water company would gain $200,000 and besides that no increase would be made over the present assessment.

GO TO DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Instead of acceding to Dalton's demands, the officers of the Spring Valley Water Company, through its counsel, immediately laid the entire proposition before me. The enormity of the offense was such I felt bound to take such steps as would bring Dalton to justice, and with this end in view I requested and advised the officers of the Spring Valley Water Company and its counsel to proceed in the matter as suggested by Dalton so that he might be apprehended in the act.

I am glad to be able to state that the officers and counsel of the Spring Valley Water Company co-operated with me to the fullest extent, and rendered the people such assistance that we are now able to place before a jury a state of facts fully corroborated and complete in every detail.

I want to protect the rights of the people and at the same time to be fair and impartial to Dalton. For that reason I cannot, at this time, disclose the evidence in my possession; suffice it is to say that everything has been done under my direct supervision and the case of the people is now ready to be placed before a jury without any delay whatever upon our part.

promise of reducing the assessment on the Alameda county property held by the Spring Valley by $2,500,000. Dalton promised that the arrangement should continue during the four years of his incumbency and that it would work a saving in actual cash to the company of $200,000.

Negotiations for the giving of the alleged bribe have been under way since early in March of this year, and during this entire period Dalton has been under the constant surveillance of agents of the district attorney's office. Every meeting with the officials of the Spring Valley Water Company has been immediately reported to District Attorney Donahue by the officials of the water company, and confirmed by his own agents who had been secreted in restaurants in San Francisco in which the meetings took place.

Emboldened by Success

Emboldened by his success, say the officials, in defeating every effort in the past sixteen years to prove the long list of allegations that have been made against him, and driven to action by the act made by the recent act of the legislature in his return from his position from $20,000 a year to but $7,000, and by losses in a mining venture, Dalton is accused of entering into a plan to mulct the Spring Valley Water Company of $25,000 a year for the next four years with a recklessness that proved his undoing. He commenced his negotiations with veiled threats, says Donahue, followed these by uncovering a plan to reduce the assessment on the corporation's properties for a definite consideration, and entered into the details to carry the plan out as arranged by the office of the district attorney. Every detail was carefully planned and arranged beforehand, and the trap worked like a mechanism well oiled and set with scientific precision.

Freed on Bonds

Dalton was arrested, subjected to two hours of questioning by District Attorney Donahue and his assistants, and later formally charged with soliciting and accepting a bribe. At midnight last night, after his wife and his attorneys had been engaged for some time in seeking his release, he was given his liberty on bondsmen qualifying in the sum of $25,000.

As the climax of an official career that has been stormy, the arrest yesterday formed a scene steeped to the depths in human interest. The stage was carefully set, the characters prepared for their part in the play, with the exception of the protagonist, and he acted his part in a manner that would have fulfilled all the requirements of the imaginary audience.

Following a series of negotiations, resulting from Dalton's alleged cold-blooded proposal to "hold up" the big corporation and defraud the citizens of this county by his maladministration of his trust, Samuel P. Eastman, vice-president of the Spring Valley Water Company, agreed to meet Dalton at Barnum's restaurant, and to turn over to him $50,000 in bribe money as the first installment for the alleged betrayal of the taxpayers of this county. Eastman, acting under written instructions from District Attorney Donahue, had haggled over the price for some weeks, but $25,000, to be handed over in three payments, had finally been agreed upon.

The two met four or five times in San Francisco restaurants to talk over the terms of the bribe-giving, and on each of these occasions, Dalton and Eastman had been secreted in adjoining rooms, and in many cases, it is alleged, stenographic reports of the conversations have been taken and transcribed to be used in the trial.

Sends for Behan

These meetings, say those concerned, had followed Dalton's deliberately sending for John E. Behan, secretary of the Spring Valley, to make the proposal to him that the company should "come through" with a consideration to have its assessment reduced, with the threat that failure to do so would result in a material increase that would cost the company hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The negotiations had been carried out in San Francisco, after being initiated in the private office of the assessor in the county court house at the meeting of Dalton and Behan, according to the accusers.

He is said to have proposed that the money should be passed in a back room at Barnum's restaurant at Seventh and Broadway, within two blocks of the county buildings in which he had held a place of trust for half a generation. By so doing he made unnecessary any further bringing of the San Francisco malfeasance of another county police, and the officials of another county into touch with the proceedings, and placed himself without a thought of suspicion in the hands of those who were planning his downfall.

Resort of Prominence

Barnum's restaurant, which was the leading cafe in Oakland thirty years ago, when the finest section of the city and all the business section was from Eighth street to the estuary, has been the resort of officials of the county, politicians, judges and financiers whose names have become famous across the continent. In the rooms on the hallway running from the Seventh street entrance secrets that would have wrecked careers were spoken over the wine glasses and black coffee. In the garden, with its white-napped tables and its vine-clad arbors with hanging clusters of grapes, meetings were held which turned the political history of counties.

It was in this famous old resort that Dalton chose to receive his "thirty pieces of silver."

It was the district attorney who accepted his plan, and prepared to take advantage of it. The hour was set for 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In a side room were stationed Detective St. Clair Hodgkins, recognized as one of the cleverest operators in the west, and Special Agent George J. Helms of San Leandro. A third detective occupied a room over that to be visited by Dalton and his companion.

Await Signal

Across the street from Barnum's is the Deiger building, and in this District Attorney Donahue and Deputy District Attorney Leon Clark awaited the signal that should bring them upon the scene. At the appointed hour Dalton and Vice-President Eastman met and proceeded to the restaurant. Eastman had in his possession the United States greenbacks which had been prepared by District Attorney Donahue. These bills had been checked over carefully by the two men, the number of each taken, and a secret sign of identification placed on each. In addition to this, signed affidavits from the cashier of the bank at which the bills were obtained were taken.

Dalton and Eastman entered Barnum's by the Seventh street entrance, which does not necessitate passing through the main dining room. They went directly to the "judges' and attorneys' room," the only dining room in the place that has a door since the recent ordinance doing away with private stalls and boxes was passed by the city council. The room is rather larger than a single box, and is used for small parties, thus bringing it within the ordinance.

Dalton was cheerful and unconcerned in his demeanor. He called a waiter and ordered wine, Eastman consenting to drink with him. When the waiter had left them alone, Dalton is reported as saying: "I suppose everything is all right?" "Yes, I have the money with me," answered Eastman, and drew the roll of marked bills from his pocket. Dalton ran over them, according to the officials, remarking as he did so that he would like the subsequent payments made in a similar manner. The whole transaction required less than ten minutes, and the signal was given for Detective Hodgkins and Special Agent Helms to get ready to make the arrest. The two detectives slipped from the building, and Donahue, watching from the opposite building, saw them emerge, and went down to take personal direction of the affair.

Dalton Cheerful

Instead of coming out by the hallway at the Seventh street entrance, the two men passed through the main dining room, coming out into Seventh street. By a preconcerted arrangement, Eastman was to raise his hand as though to wipe his forehead, to indicate that the currency had changed hands, and that the time for the arrest had arrived.

The signal was given, and Helms laid his hand upon Dalton's shoulder, while Hodgkins closed in on the assessor from the other side. "You are under arrest," Helms said, coolly. Dalton winced slightly as he felt the

DALTON CONFINED IN CELL AT COUNTY JAIL MANY HOURS

Alameda County Grand Jury Hard at Work; Witnesses Summoned to Tell of Water Company Assessment

During the few hours that County Assessor Dalton was under arrest last night he was confined in a cell in the juvenile department of the county jail, which is located on the fourth floor of that institution. He was entered by Chief Jailor White upon the jail record as prisoner No. 2856, was searched like any other prisoner, and locked up without formalities. District Attorney Donahue, Assistant District Attorney Hynes and Chief Deputy District Attorney Carey, together with Sheriff Frank Barnett, were present in the chief jailer's office when Dalton was put through the formalities, and they were on hand again at 12:30 o'clock this forenoon when the county assessor's bondsmen arrived to have the prisoner released on the $25,000 bond which was routed Police Judge Mortimer Smith out of bed at his home at midnight to approve.

The county assessor made no scene when his attorneys and bondsmen reached the jail with his bond, and he was brought down from his cell. With a smile on his face he shook the hand of each bondsman, thanking them for their friendship and loyalty. Then he congratulated the lawyers upon the effective work they had done to accomplish his release, saying "Good night, gentlemen," to the others present, and stalked out of the jail. He entered an automobile with his bondsmen and drove to his home.

During the remainder of the night the assessor's attorneys and bondsmen were on duty at the Dalton residence to guard against any possibility of the accused official escaping if he had any idea of disappearing. It is understood that Dalton and his wife had made all arrangements to leave the city on a long vacation trip, and would have departed for the East in a few days.

Friends of Accused Man Declare He Will Put Up Fight

Friends of County Assessor Dalton declared today that he would fight the bribery charges against him to a finish and that he will not relinquish his office until forced to quit. Under the law Dalton's conviction of a felony would automatically vacate the office he holds. The Board of Supervisors also has the power to remove a county official, but whether or not it will attempt to exercise this authority under the present circumstances has not yet been considered by any member.

It is the prevailing opinion that the supervisors will simply leave the whole matter in the hands of the District Attorney and the courts to be thrashed out along the lines laid today. However, should there be a conviction and Dalton's office thus vacated, he would be the duty of the Board of Supervisors to appoint the County Assessor's successor to serve during the remainder of his unexpired term.

Pardee Expresses Opinion in Dalton Case With a "Damn"

SACRAMENTO, May 19.—"I don't know a thing about it. I can hardly believe that Henry Dalton would be such a fool as to do the thing with which he has been charged."

That was the answer which former Governor George C. Pardee, the close personal and political friend of County Assessor Dalton of Alameda county, who is charged with bribery in Oakland, gave this afternoon. The Tribune correspondent, when asked what he thought of the charge that had been made against his friend.

The governor would say no more for the reason that he was in a hurry and was just entering a meeting of the State Conservation Commission, which is in session here and of which he is one of the leading members.

It was evident that the gentleman was annoyed and pained, but he would say nothing more about the serious plight of his friend.

Ex-Governor Pardee has been one of the closest friends of Assessor Dalton for the past thirty years. The two have been together in political battles in this city and county for the greater part of that time.

Last night, when there was a call for citizens of Oakland who were friends of Dalton to produce bail in order to enable the accused assessor to regain his liberty, pending the determination of the charge, Pardee was sought, but it was ascertained that he had gone to the capital of the state for the purpose of taking part in the deliberations of the State Conservation Commission.

He was wired of the facts in the Dalton case but was unable to return to the assistance of his friend, because of the imminence of the meeting of the state organization referred to in which he had introduced several subjects for consideration. The ex-governor's presence, however, was not required for the reason that others present were able to produce the bail required.

"We simply loaned District Attorney Donahue a couple of men to help request yesterday afternoon in order that there should be no disturbance at the time. The task of gathering the information was accomplished entirely under the direction of Donahue, and the police department had nothing to do with the matter."

Inferior Court Case Will Be Dropped if Grand Jury Indicts

In the event that the grand jury indicts County Assessor Dalton the following charge against him will go to trial direct in the Superior Court. Prosecutors on information in penal cases must first be preliminary in an inferior court, but in the case of grand jury indictment they come under the immediate jurisdiction of the Superior Court. The maximum penalty in cases of the Dalton class is fourteen years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Assessor's Pleading for Extra Funds Proves Ineffective

The pleading of the assessor, at the last session of the legislature for additional assistance in his office as also for the increase of the salary of some of the deputies, was ineffective, notwithstanding that it was made in a strong and persistent manner.

After the Alameda county delegation had declined to grant scarcely any of Dalton's requests, he made a supplemental request attempting to show that if the same should be granted it would result in a saving of something over $10,000 a year to the taxpayers. This statement was made in support of his desire to have the making of the block books used in his office, taken from the county surveyor who has been making them for some time, but that request was also denied.

When the first application spoken of was made to the Alameda county delegation, it was referred to the grand jury which was in existence at the time and the first denial came from that body in the following recommendation to the delegation:

JURY'S FINDING.

"We find from this thorough examination that should the assessor request additional help or increases in salary of deputies, that he has an ample force, amply paid, to attend to all the duties of his office, and even should any additional labor be placed upon this office by the present legislature or the recent constitutional amendment, we do not believe that such further labor will place any unjust burden upon the present force. We therefore strongly recommend that the request be not granted."

After the delegation had acted in the premises, Dalton sent a supplemental communication asking for an amendment of the findings, as follows:

"If you allow the increase pay to the deputies asked for to correspond with the pay of deputies in other offices there will be a saving in the assessor's office to the taxpayers of the difference between $10,922.15 and $4050, or $6872.15. The only county office that is asking the legislature to make a saving in the expense to the taxpayers."

"Should you determine not to make an increase in the pay of the deputies other than the $900 you have already granted, and allow the assessor to make the block books, there will be a saving to the taxpayers of $10,922.15 per annum."

"In fairness to the office and to the taxpayers of the county I trust that you will grant the request herein made. I am, yours truly,"

The refusal of this request compelled the assessor to conduct his office without practically any additional increase in expenses to the taxpayers of the county.

GOVERNMENT SUES LUMBER COMBINE

Indictments Issued Are Very Far Reaching and Affect Prominent People.

consumer from buying anywhere except from local retailers.

The government suit is replete with sensational allegations, and it is asserted that builders and consumers of lumber the country over are at the mercy of the retailers' organizations in different sections of the United States.

The suit filed today is against the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, which is the central body of ninety local concerns covering five states, the District of Columbia and the cities of Baltimore and Philadelphia.

This is the government's first anti-trust suit conforming to the Supreme Court Standard Oil decision in that it alleges "undue" and "unreasonable" restraint of the trade of the consumer and the manufacturer.

It is the evident purpose of the plea to confine the charge largely to that feature, small stress being placed on the restraint of trade among the conspirators themselves.

Attorney General Wickham and his special assistant, Clark McKever, have spent more than a year gathering the evidence on which today's suit is based. This evidence includes copies of the alleged agreements, blacklists and reports of the various organizations, branding wholesalers and retailers who have dared to violate the rules of the associations as "poachers," "Mavericks," "scalpers" and "illegitimate dealers," "to whom short shrift must be applied."

GIST OF CHARGES.

The government charges, in brief, that by an elaborate system of blacklisting, not only individual consumers, but some of the largest industrial corporations have been prevented from dealing directly with wholesalers. By alleged unlawful agreements and acts, it is charged that all competition in the trade of the contractor, the builder, the manufacturer of finished lumber products and the individual consumer, has been thrown entirely into the hands of the retailers in the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' association and its constituent organizations.

The government bill alleges that in some localities wholesalers, but some of the largest industrial corporations have been prevented from dealing directly with wholesalers. By alleged unlawful agreements and acts, it is charged that all competition in the trade of the contractor, the builder, the manufacturer of finished lumber products and the individual consumer, has been thrown entirely into the hands of the retailers in the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' association and its constituent organizations.

Officials of the department of justice regard the suit as the most important in principle ever taken by the government against alleged conspiracies said to affect the cost of living. It is believed that should the courts uphold the government's contention that it is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law to prevent the ultimate consumer from buying direct from the producer, other suits will be started against combinations of retailers alleged to be in control of the marketing of many of the commodities of life.

McBRIDE IS ASTOUNDED.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—William McBride, president of the Lumbermen's Exchange of this city, and also head of the Retail Lumbermen's Association of Philadelphia, refused to believe this afternoon that the government had entered suit in New York against the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, charging it with restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. "Practically every retail firm in the city belongs to this association. It seems impossible for me to believe that the government make such serious and ridiculous allegations," he said.

WILL NOT TALK.

BOSTON, May 19.—The Massachusetts Retail Lumber Dealers' Association mentioned in the conspiracy charges made by the government has its headquarters in Worcester. None of the members are called to discuss the action of Attorney General Wickham.

NEVER HEARD OF TRUST.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 19.—Walter Parrott, secretary and treasurer of the Lumber Dealers' Association of Rhode Island, when informed of the government's action said: "So far as a lumber trust is concerned, I never heard of any."

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF McMILLAN'S ARREST

That jealousy caused Mrs. Marshall Johnson to cause the arrest of Daniel McMILLAN, former superintendent of the Union Men's Orphanage at San Lorenzo, was the opinion of Attorney Walsh for the defendant, at the trial before Judge Brewett, yesterday morning. Mrs. Johnson, it is said, aspires to the superintendency of the orphanage.

When Attorney Satterwhite, representing the plaintiff, objected to certain portions of the testimony, Judge Brewett said: "I would rather err in allowing the jury too much information than of depriving it of testimony it ought to have."

NO ANIMUS IN ARREST OLNEY MAKES STATEMENT

By WARREN S. OLNEY JR.

The company had absolutely no feeling in the matter and there was no animus back of the arrest of Assessor Dalton. There was a difference of opinion as to the assessment of certain land and riparian rights near Niles, but this matter had nothing to do with the present case.

Every Assessor has his own reasons for levying assessments and the officers of the Spring Valley Company believed that Dalton was wrong in his way of assessing this property.

Secretary Behan of the Spring Valley Water Company received a message from Dalton to the effect that he wanted to see him. Behan went to Dalton's office in Oakland, thinking that they would discuss the assessments for the year as is usual in such cases. The assessment of the riparian right was uppermost in Behan's mind when he entered Dalton's private office alone for an interview.

He was very much surprised at the offer that was made to him for presentation to the company that Dalton was to reduce the assessment about half—more than $2,500,000—effecting a saving of $50,000 for a consideration of $25,000. This would give Dalton half the benefit which the company would receive by the reduced assessment.

REPORTS THE MATTER.

Behan at once reported the matter to Vice-President and General Manager Eastman of the company, who in turn reported it to the executive committee. This committee resolved to place the facts in the hands of District Attorney Donahue. Attorney E. J. McCutcheon was informed of the action of the executive committee and appointed to lay the matter before Donahue.

Under McCutcheon's supervision, a letter explaining what had taken place was written with the assurance that the Spring Valley Company would co-operate with him in any action he might take. Since that time every effort has been made to obtain evidence in the case, and all the investigations and other actions have been under Donahue's direction. The company, however, assisted him materially in securing such corroborative evidence as was necessary.

During the present administration of the water company Dalton had not approached the company on such a matter as this until the present time. I was brought into this case through my partnership with McCutcheon, who is attorney for the Spring Valley Water Company. He was away today and I attended to some of the details representing McCutcheon.

DALTON'S FRIENDS PREDICT FIGHT TO THE END

ACCUSED MAN REFUSES TO SPEAK

Will Make No Statement Until He Is Called Into Court.

Assessor Jauntily Greets His Friends on Arriving at County Jail.

Officials of the Spring Valley Water Company are silent as to the long series of negotiations and meetings leading up to the arrest of County Assessor Dalton. That the company was not moved in its actions by any personal feeling toward Dalton is asserted by the men at the head of the corporation, and this statement is affirmed by District Attorney Donahue. The first step was taken by Dalton himself, they say, and after considering his proposal, the officials of the company decided to place themselves at the disposition of the district attorney's office.

Vice-President Samuel P. Eastman and John E. Behan, secretary of the Spring Valley Water Company, would not discuss the affair today, although theirs was the most important part in the preliminaries to the arrest of Dalton.

FIRST STEP TAKEN.

The first move in the negotiations was made by Dalton in March, almost a month ago, according to the officials. At that time Dalton went to the company that he wished to discuss assessment matters with them, and Secretary Behan was commissioned to take up the matter with Dalton. The interview took place in the private office of Dalton in the court house.

There had been some difficulties between the corporation and the assessor in the past, as Dalton had assessed not only the land, but had placed a valuation upon the riparian right of the company, and had assessed upon these as well the company's holdings in the county for the past year to $4,500,000.

When Behan called upon the assessor, Dalton told him that it was his intention to materially raise this assessment for the coming fiscal year. There was some conversation over this, and Behan returned to report to his company the declaration of the assessor. Some time later, when he considered that the company might be considered to be alarmed by the situation, he sent for Behan again.

WASTES NO TIME.

At this interview he did not waste time in coming to the point, according to Behan, but after speaking about the fact that his office had been reduced by the State Legislature from a free office to a straight salary proposition, thereby cutting down his income from $20,000 a year to only $7,000, and talking about the loss he had sustained by having to spend several thousand dollars at the last primary election, he demanded to know how much the company would be willing to pay for a material reduction in their assessment.

He is alleged to have explained that he wanted to get even for the reduction in his income, and stated that he did not care whether he held the office for another term after the expiration of this term of four years or not. He proposed to reduce the assessment of the com-

"MR. DALTON WILL VINDICATE HIMSELF," SAYS T. W. ROBINSON

had finished he breathed a sigh of relief and then turned to his deputy, Thomas M. Robinson, who was cranking his car for the purpose of spinning to the police court in this city, where it was thought it would be necessary for him to appear to answer the charge which had been made against him last evening.

Woman Answers

Before going to the house THE TRIBUNE reporter sought to ascertain over the telephone if the assessor was at home. In response to queries on the subject, a woman replied that she did not know whether or not the assessor was in the structure, and requested the newspaper man to wait a few moments while a search was instituted. At length the reply came in effect that the assessor was not at home.

Then the query was put as to whether or not Mrs. Dalton was in the domicile. There was another delay. The voice at the end of the wire was heard to make inquiry of some person standing nearby, and the latter was heard to make answer, but the answer was not intelligible. At length, the voice at the phone declared that neither the assessor nor his wife was at home. The newspaperman went directly to the house.

Handsome Home

The home of Assessor Dalton is on the summit of the hill, which is about three blocks north of Grand avenue. The structure is a composite one, comprising a variety of the exterior methods of adornment which have been introduced into the elaborate homes in that section of the city which are inhabited by most successful business and professional men of Oakland and San Francisco. There are Venetian porches, large verandas, wide and high windows, trailing vines and at the same time a display of comfort and refinement which makes it one of the most attractive homes in this city.

"I Wish Henry Had Never Gotten Into Politics"

A few days ago the father of County Assessor Dalton, Henry N. Dalton, who for years has been conducting an iron foundry in West Oakland, said to a young friend of his in this city who had run for nomination at the primary here several weeks ago and who had been defeated:

"You ought to be glad that you are out of politics." The young man admitted that he was glad that he was out of politics, whereupon the elder Dalton said: "I wish to God that my son, Henry, had never gotten into politics."

Daltons and Pardees Planned Auto Trip Throughout State

APPEALS TO HIS FRIENDS 'PLOT,' SAYS H. P. DALTON

By HENRY P. DALTON.

HENRY P. DALTON.

All that I have to say at this time is that I ask the people and my friends to withhold judgment until the matter can come up before the courts for a judicial hearing. I am acting under the advice of my attorneys and also because I know that it is impossible, at this time, to fairly discuss an affair of this kind. The proper place is the courts and I hope that opinions will be withheld until that time. This is a scheme to blacken my character and sully a reputation hitherto untarnished during the seventeen years I have been Assessor of Alameda county. My arrest will serve as boomerang to those who put up the plot and instigated it, and the charges are absolutely false.

Many Indictments Returned Against Dalton in the Past

The name of Assessor Dalton has been before the people of this county through the courts in the last ten years more often than that of any official who was ever elected by the people. He has been indicted several times and several times has been placed on trial, and in instances has been compelled to refund money.

During all these periods he has assumed an air of innocence, even when the publication of the facts caused many taxpayers, who had considered him the man fitted especially for the position of assessor, when he started out for that position, to desert him with the conviction that they had been deceived by him.

This morning, one of the leading men in this city stated that he had been forced to desert Dalton a number of years ago for the reason that he was satisfied the latter was not playing fair with the people. He said that after Dalton's first election the corporations fought the assessment which he made of their property and the fight, for several years, was kept up by them on one side and the assessor on the other.

The corporations, he said, desired to have the valuation of their property, as made by Dalton, reduced by the supervisors, sitting as a county board of equalization. In some instances they were able to secure reductions, and in other instances, the request was refused by the equalizers, on the ground that the assessor had no right to make the assessment, for the reason that the law assigned that duty to the state board of equalization.

In other cases, there were a number of rich land owners in this city who, for several years after Dalton got into office, were accustomed to fight his assessments, but for years lately the citizen referred to stated they have left the assessments pass uncontested on the ground, he alleged, that those assessments, as well as the assessment of the corporate property, were satisfactory to them. It will be recalled that neither of these interested persons have fought in the board of equalization for a number of years.

County Assessor Dalton refused, this morning, to discuss his arrest yesterday on the charge of bribery, the causes which led up to the same or, indeed, any phase of the question.

His refusal was made in front of his home, 328 Bellevue avenue, in one of the most exclusive residence districts of Oakland.

When a reporter approached, Dalton was resting against the tonneau of an auto and with him was Thomas M. Robinson, chief deputy in his office.

When the assessor directed his attention to the newspaper man, Robinson cranked the machine, and when the short interview had come to a close, Dalton followed Robinson into the car, and both speeded toward the heart of Oakland.

Dalton was asked where his wife was at the time and by a shake of the head indicated his home, in front of which he was standing, and said:

"But you can't talk to her."

Dalton Not Bitter

The refusal to discuss the matter was accompanied by no bitterness, but there was missing on the features of the man the smile of greeting which has long been a characteristic of his countenance. The eyes had lost their luster and were contracted, the evidence of a sleepless night.

agent's hand upon his shoulder, and when he saw Donahue and Clark coming across the street, he turned deathly pale and almost sank to the ground under the detective's grip. A moment later he rallied, and greeted Donahue with some show of unconcern.

The realization that he was trapped came fully upon him when, at a signal from Donahue, St. Clair Hodgkins began to search him in expert manner. The thing was done quietly, and the little group of men in front of the restaurant did not even attract the attention of passersby. From one pocket Hodgkins pulled a small bundle of papers, but realizing that they were not the marked currency, passed them over quietly to Donahue. Dalton raised no objection to this, but a moment later, when in an inner pocket the roll of bills was found, he almost yelled in a voice shrill with excitement and fear:

"It's mine; you have no right to take it."

"Henry, how do you account for this money?" asked Donahue quietly.

"It's mine," responded Dalton. "It is none of your business where I got it."

Donahue looked over the bills, quickly identifying them by the private marks and numbers, and placed them in his own pocket. Without further conversation, the party proceeded to the court house, two blocks away.

Dalton was striving hard to gain full control of himself, but the detectives declare that he was quivering with the tension under which he had placed his trembling nerves. They went directly to the district attorney's office, where a long conference was held in the presence of District Attorney Donahue, Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes and Deputy Leon Clark.

Asks for Attorney

"Henry, is there anybody you wish to see?" asked Donahue.

The assessor asked for Attorney Lincoln S. Church, of the firm of Snook & Church, who had defended his former case. Afterwards he requested to see Carl M. Abbott of the legal firm of Fitzgerald & Abbott, who had defended him at another time. The two attorneys were sent for.

Charles White, deputy sheriff, was sent for, preparatory to taking Dalton to the county jail, and at 5:30 the assessor followed Clark and Donahue from the office of the district attorney. Donahue fell in behind.

As the party passed out of the hallway into the corridor of the court house they were met by Chief Deputy District Attorney Phil M. Carey and a newspaper reporter, both well known to Dalton. The assessor straightened and threw back his head, greeting the two with a smile. But the smile was forced and grim rather than pleasant, and tears were in his eyes. He had passed through a trying ordeal.

GRAND JURY'S ACTION IS AWAITED

Accused County Assessor Not Arraigned, Pending the Expected Indictment.

Calm Throughout Police Court Proceedings; Greets His Friends.

Accompanied by his attorneys, Henry P. Dalton appeared before the magistrate of police court No. 2 at 9:30 o'clock this morning to answer the summons that were issued late last night by Police Judge Mortimer Smith after he had been admitted to bail on $25,000 bonds. After a consultation between Justice Aaron Turner, sitting for Justice George Samuels, Captain of Detectives W. J. Petersen and Attorneys E. M. Gehring, Burt Wyman and R. M. Fitzgerald, it was decided to postpone the arraignment until tomorrow, pending the action of the grand jury.

In case an indictment is returned against him by that body the police court complaint charging bribery and sworn to by Detective Helms, will not be utilized by the prosecution, though it will remain on record until the final outcome of the case.

DALTON IS CALM.

Apparently calm without, but with manifestations of suppressed anxiety within, the accused assessor hurried through the formalities necessary to obtain a continuance of his case, taking advantage of each opportunity that presented to clasp the hand of an acquaintance, though he carried on no conversation except with Attorneys Gehring and Wyman, who stood close by him during the time that he remained in the city hall.

The case was not called in the police court until after the arrangement of postponement made with Justice Turner immediately following which Dalton left the building and proceeded on foot, flanked by the attorneys, along Fourteenth street to Broadway and thence down that thoroughfare, while countless persons turned to gaze at his retreating form.

Charged Big Sum for Duplicate Tax Rolls of the City

Dalton has been in trouble also over the fact that he charged a liberal sum of money for the making of duplicate tax rolls for the city of Oakland, when it was claimed that all he was entitled to was the actual cost of production. This also led to a contest in the court and peculiar testimony was given in the case when an attempt was made to show that the work had been done by one of the attaches of the assessor's office and that the money paid that attaché was fully earned. In this case, the assessor was compelled to refund some of the money expended.

Regardless of the fact that as assessor he at one time received and, in fact, is even now receiving more salary by several thousand dollars per year, than any other county official, there has been no time that he has not striven to increase his annual income.

Two years ago the income from various kinds of work in his office was estimated to be all the way between $20,000 and $27,000 per year. There was a revulsion of feeling on the part of many taxpayers of the county when this fact was bruited abroad. There was a move in the direction of reducing the amount to a reasonable limit, in keeping with the salaries of the other county officials, considering the amount of work done in the respective offices.

Dalton Summoned

This desire found expression at a meeting of the Alameda county delegation to the legislature at the session before that which recently came to a close. Dalton was summoned before that body with the other county officials who were asking for more assistance, and also an increase in the amount of their own salaries and that of their auxiliaries.

The attack was made on the assessor's perquisites by the then Assemblyman John W. Mott of this city, when it was shown, in the statement of the assessor's office, that the place was costing the county $99,925 per year and that he wanted a further allowance made which would provide for its maintenance, the liberal sum of $66,350 per year, or, in other words, an increase over preceding year of $17,325.

Mott asked Dalton a number of questions. The first was as to what were the duties of an assessor. Dalton replied that they were to assess the property of the county.

$17,000 Commissions

Then Dalton was asked as to what was the assessor's salary and Dalton replied that it was $4000 a year. Was there anything else to it, was then asked, and Dalton replied that there was no more for assessment work, in answer to further queries Dalton admitted that there were other sources of revenue which he enjoyed, and those were the commissions which he received for the collection of poll tax, as also the personal property tax. From both those sources of revenue he received about $17,000 a year.

He was asked as to what valuation was the basis of his assessment of the value of personal property in the county and replied that he assessed such property on its cash valuation. Mott expressed his doubt that the assessment was conducted on that basis and Dalton repeated that such was the fact.

Then the inquiry was made as to how the valuation was secured with which to make the assessment, whether he took the word of the owner or not, and Dalton replied that he inspected the books of the owners and consulted the consignments.

$21,000 Income

Then Mott asked how much money Dalton drew down a year, as assessor of the county and Dalton said that it was about $21,000.

Dalton claimed that in the collection of the personal and poll taxes he employed a large number of men, who were paid salaries and in some instances also commissions. In the money which was paid into his office over his counter he enjoyed a commission of about $2000. The result of the discussion was that the Alameda county delegation decided that the assessor should be paid the principal was concerned, would be placed on a flat salary of $7000 per year, the extra above the amount paid the other county officers being allowed in full for the performance of duties over and above actual assessment work, including the collecting of poll tax and the tax on personal property, for which the assessor retained for himself a comfortable commission.

Income Reduced

That bill was not designed to go into effect at once, but on January 1 of the present year. For that reason, during the past two years, Dalton has been in receipt of his former big income. Since the first of the present year, he has, however, been in receipt of a stipend at the rate of only $7000 per year. It is supposed that he was behind the move recently made in the local Superior Court to invalidate the law reducing his salary as indicated in order that he might have restored to him the bonanza salary which Dalton, the best paid county official in the state, which has been decided against Dalton.

Dalton Makes Good When Duplication Is Found by Board

One of the indictments which were returned against Dalton was for the issuance of a couple of warrants for a set of duplicate tax rolls. Dalton gave an order for a set of rolls to George Oakes of Hayward. This order was turned over to a young man named Russell Stedman who was at the time an attaché of the assessor. The company in question printed a set of rolls and turned them over to Dalton, who O. K.'d the bill, amounting to $1575. Later a bill for a similar amount was O. K.'d by an attaché of Dalton's office, but the duplication was discovered when the bills came to the board of supervisors for payment, after the second bill had been discounted by J. B. Lanikree. Dalton afterward made good the amount of the Stedman order.

Otto L. Hassel, a former deputy in the office of Assessor Dalton, was indicted by the grand jury for the alleged falsification of his bills to the county for stationery, because, while acting as deputy assessor, he was also the manager of a stationery store at the intersection of Broadway and Fourteenth street and San Pablo avenue. One of the alleged disclosures made at the time was that Hassel had sold, so far as the bills were concerned, pencils in the sum of $157 per month to the county assessor's office.

Padding Charged

The bills were charged with having been padded after they had been approved by the various county officials for whose offices the supplies were intended. There were three trials in which Hassel was defended, but the jury in each case disagreed and, at length, the case was dismissed. After his liberation from jail, Hassel was given a place in the office of the county assessor.

of those concerns in this county. Dalton Blackburn of this city appeared before the grand jury and charged that Dalton had been in receipt of money through him from corporations for the purpose of reducing his assessment on the property of those concerns in this county. Dalton alleged that he had simply borrowed the sums in question from Blackburn, something which Blackburn denied and showed the contemporaneous nature of the checks given to Dalton with some of the latter's official actions.

The matter was referred to the grand jury and carefully considered by that body. The idea was to have Dalton indicted for extorting money from an employee under penalty of the latter losing his position in the assessor's office.

Shay himself went before the grand jury and swore that he had paid over the money referred to, so that it got into the possession of Dalton, who is alleged to have said to Shay that he wanted it for campaign purposes. He also asserted that he had paid the money, some $25,000.

The Evil Yet to Come.

The adventurers from the United States who flocked over the order to engage in the rebellion that has finally overthrown the Diaz government in Mexico have left an evil legacy for their countrymen. They have renewed an ancient animosity that had tempered down to mild antipathy in recent years and was fast being allayed. Their conduct has not endeared Americans to either faction, and when Mexico is required to meet the bill of damages that will be presented to her there will be a revival of the fierce hatred against the American people which raged in Mexican breasts for a generation after the spoliation of Mexico during the Polk administration. American citizens having interests in Mexico or who may hereafter acquire interests there will be made to feel the weight of popular anger at the acts of their ruthless and reckless countrymen who have made it necessary for Americans operating legitimately in Mexico to again conquer the good will of the Mexican people. Luckily the national administration has treated Mexico with great consideration and the utmost fairness during the turmoil which has prevailed in the sister republic during the past eight months. Not only has our government kept hands off, but it has exerted what influence it could exercise in proper ways to bring about peace and a cessation of bloodshed. Nevertheless it will be the duty of our government to exact compensation and reparation for the damage done to the property and the injuries inflicted on the persons of American citizens. If the Diaz faction still retain power they will have to pay for the destructive work done by American adventurers and marauders who tried to tear down the government. If Madero should take the reins of authority he will have to pay for the damage suffered by American citizens at the hands of the American mercenaries who fought under his banner. In no authenticated case did Americans suffer in person or property at the hands of the Diaz faction. The Diaz government did its best to protect all foreigners residing in the country—it was the insurgents who seized the property of foreigners, made them flee for their lives and in some instances killed them. If Madero has to make recompense, as he surely will if he succeeds Diaz, he will have to make the Mexican people pay for the acts of the Americans who helped Madero overturn the Diaz government.

Our esteemed Bourbon contemporary, the Watsonville Register should not draw wrong conclusions from THE TRIBUNE'S remarks about the Hon. Everis A. Hayes' sudden change of front on reciprocity with Canada. Although that great and good man changed his mind rather precipitately on that measure it does not follow that THE TRIBUNE has changed its tariff views. This paper is still in favor of protecting American labor and commerce, not only in California but in all other States of the Union. We do not regard the tariff as a local or a personal issue. With all due respect for the Red Mahatma of Edenville, we do not believe reciprocity with Canada will injure the producers of this country or destroy the protective system. Still we do not doubt that Mr. Hayes deemed it a pious duty to protect his Lake Superior iron mines from Canada's wicked pauper competition. Let us prey.

It is time to amend the slang phrase, "Don't take any bad money." It should be changed to read, "Don't take marked bills."

The Court Did Not Amend the Law.

Judge Harlan is a great and good man, but he is human, and it is not beyond the range of probability that his dissent from the court's opinion in the Standard Oil case was colored, to some extent at least, by his disappointment that he should have been passed over for Judge White when the President was looking for a man to appoint Chief Justice. Judge Harlan is a Republican and Judge White a Democrat, and Judge Harlan has served on the Supreme Court nearly twice as long as Judge White.

It is to be remarked that Judge Harlan concurred without reservation in the Standard Oil judgment. What he dissented from is not really a part of the decision, but what the lawyers call obiter dicta in the opinion, that is, expressions which did not affect the issue or the conclusions of the court but which set forth distinctions which are not binding on any other court or even the Supreme Court in future decisions. The law is expressed in the conclusion not the reasoning process leading up to it. Hence Judge Harlan was not accurate in stating that the court had amended the constitution.

An examination of the decision shows that the judgment of the lower court was affirmed on the pleadings, but Justice White expressed an opinion in drawing the court's conclusions that by construction injected the word reasonable into the Sherman anti-trust law. That obiter dictum, however, does not amend the law nor govern future constructions of its tenor and effect. As a cold fact, the court did not read into the law any matter that was not put there by the framers of the act. Chief Justice White did, however, argue that the word reasonable was presumed to be there or at least implied. But that is an individual conclusion and not a conclusion of law, Judge Harlan to the contrary notwithstanding.

A Bourbon Contemporary Set Right.

Says our esteemed contemporary, the Visalia Times: "The Oakland Tribune does not like the attitude of those now in power in the Republican party in California, who are demanding a big part in the distribution of patronage in California from President Taft and are at the same time figuring on landing California's votes for La Follette for President at the next Republican national convention. But the Tribune is up against it. It will have to like what the L-R. Leaguers are doing if it plays in G. O. P. politics in this State."

Our Visalia friend is in a state of mental confusion, or is careless in his choice of words. Nobody, no conditions, no circumstances can make this paper profess to like what it does not like, or favor what it does not approve. The first business of THE TRIBUNE is to print the news, which is not a matter of liking or politics, and in printing the news it is not swayed by what others may do or think, or even its own views on party and political questions. It will continue to advocate the principles for which the Republican party has stood since its formation, no matter what party or faction may be in power. It will in future discuss public men of all parties and all public measures with the freedom and candor which have characterized its editorial utterances in the past. Its convictions are in no wise controlled by whoever for the moment controls the Republican organization in this State, and its fidelity to Republican principles is not affected by the mutations of factional politics.

We have not yet conceded the right of any man or set of men to materially alter the essential principles upon which the Republican party planted itself in the beginning and upon which its long-continued success in administering the affairs of government is based. Free trade preached by men professing to be Republicans is as repugnant as if preached by Democrats—it is the doctrine and not the men who preach it that we oppose. As to other political matters we are not greatly concerned so long as we have a sound currency and the constitution is respected and obeyed. In a cheerful spirit we will continue to print the best newspaper in California and tell the truth about all and sundry, governed always by the limitations imposed by good taste and the laws which forbid calling some people and some things by their proper names.

THE TEMPTATION OF ST. ANTHONY, JR.

We also possess enough of the milk of human kindness to spare a little sympathy to our Visalia contemporary. While it was engaging in the ruction between the Republican factions, the Republicans stepped in and took Tulare county from Bourbon control. Our neighbor should quit making faces at people who are neither annoyed or amused by its antics and mend its own fences. They are in a sad state of disrepair. That is not strange, however, for as the State becomes more civilized it becomes more Republican. But it is no tribute to the intelligence of the constituency of the Times that the Republicans should have achieved their greatest success in Tulare county under the leadership of dwarfs and mountebanks. Still relief from the Bourbon crowd was so welcome that the voters apparently reasoned that it was impossible to worst themselves. The Visalia editor is like the naughty children that mocked Elisha. While he was mocking one faction of the Republican party the other faction ate him up.

There was a mental reservation in the interview Chester H. Rowell gave the Washington Post that should not pass unnoticed. He enumerated the places at which Colonel Roosevelt spoke while on his last visit to California and the manifestations of approval that met his utterances—in all cases but one—but he failed to mention the popular response elicited by his speech urging the re-election of Mayor Hodghead of Berkeley. For some unexplained reason Mr. Rowell failed to state that a Socialist, defeated Mayor Hodghead a few days after Colonel Roosevelt swatted Socialism and apotheosized Hodghead. Still Mr. Rowell closed his eulogy of the ex-President with this significant statement, "but I am not predicting his return to political leadership." Evidently he had the result of the Berkeley election in mind, although he did not mention it.

MEN AND WOMEN

A girl who has sworn off wearing hats. And then another one. Proof? Certainly! Listen to the Baltimore Sun: Name—Miss Marguerite Purvis. Address—2015 Maryland avenue, Baltimore. Second—Miss Helen Purvis, same address, younger sister. Proof of convictions—Miss Marguerite has worn hats only to the Seventh Baptist Church in the last two years. Miss Purvis comes downtown to business—she's a bookkeeper—every day. She walks, and she has never, snow or rain, wind or calm, deviated from her purpose in going out with only the plentiful covering nature has given protecting her head. March winds may scatter a few locks—what matter? She's a tall, good looking blonde who lives with her father and mother and some brothers, in addition to the sister who is imitating her. The younger Miss Purvis is but one of the many uptown misses who follow the style that enrages—that's a bit strong—milliners. Two years ago, Miss Marguerite explained yesterday, the idea just shot into her head that she might as well go without a hat. Fine idea that, and so it was. Listen: "I've the prettiest hat in Baltimore, I wear it to church, and that's all." Now for her fuller explanation. "Every one who passes turns and looks and stares, but I don't mind. I go up and down Maryland avenue and people point me out. And I don't care! I made up my mind." There you are. "My hair," she continued, "is all my own." Not by way of intended comment or anything of that sort, let it be stated as a fact that there's a lot of it. By her own admission Miss Purvis does not like "rats." She has tried them. Now she wears a coiffure of puffs and some little curls at the back of her neck. She carries a muff always and wears, generally, a grayish sort of suit when walking. Summer time afternoons she carries a parasol and people do not stare so.—Kansas City Times.

"I think women would like baseball if they could enjoy it as they do a book." "How is that?" "The last inning first."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THINGS IN GENERAL

"No flies, no mosquitoes, no dirt, no dangerous water—that is the achievement of Americans in a city that was known as the filthiest in the world. This is what Miss Zonia Baber, teacher of geography in the University of Chicago High School, who recently returned from a winter vacation in the Canal Zone, said of Panama. She doesn't see why Chicago could not be as safe a place to live in as Panama, but she says it is not. "If one sets a glass of water on his window sill in that country," Miss Baber declares, "a man whose business is the spreading of oil will put a few drops of kerosene in it. Every lake and stream and swamp is sprayed that the mosquitoes may not breed."

The public drinking cup will be outlawed in Chicago on August 6, as it will be in New York on October 1, the Aldermen of the Windy City having passed an ordinance giving it only ninety days of grace—or disgrace. "The Chicago Tribune" thinks that the new regulation, which it calls the "death cup" ordinance, will be far-reaching in its effects, and adds that "legal decisions on what constitutes a public drinking cup of glass are likely to be sought when enforcement begins. Dr. F. O. Tomney, bacteriologist of the Health Department, in testifying before the Council Health Committee, said a glass should be rinsed in hot water before a second usage. Although this is not in the ordinance, it may constitute a guiding post for prosecutions in many instances."

A Bit of Humor

"Jinx led to me yesterday in order to get off to go to the ball game. He said his wife's mother was dead." "I think you are mistaken. I heard what he said." "Then what was it?" "He said he would like to attend his mother-in-law's funeral."—Houston Post.

The weather in California is quite varying. The reports show that the temperature at 7 o'clock a. m. was as follows: Oakland, 58; Winters, 52; Santa Rosa, 48; Napa, 50; Suisun, 55; Vacaville, 67; Newman, 54; Livermore, 56; Pleasanton, 59; Niles, 58 and Hayward, 57.

El Capitan, the Narrow Gauge ferry boat, is being refitted. The panel pictures are to be changed and others substituted. Captain John Leale, the genial commander of the boat, is supervising the change.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a wedding took place at the Church of the Advent in East Oakland, the contracting parties being Colonel Isaac D. de Russy, Eleventh Infantry, U. S. A., and Miss Laura Requa, daughter of the late John Requa of Highland Park and niece of I. L. Requa of Piedmont.

The Y. W. C. A. has decided to construct a brick instead of a frame building on the lot at the corner of Franklin and Durant streets, at a cost of $14,000.

Among the Oaklanders who are at present traveling in different parts of the state and country are the following: O. Lomax, City Treasurer Gilpin and Mrs. Gilpin, George W. Strine, Miss Mary E. Stone, Mrs. George B. Willcutt, Mr. and Mrs. E. Higgins, Mrs. E. F. Edelen, Mrs. C. O. Webb, Mrs. W. J. Clifton, Mrs. H. A. Westall, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Tully, and Joseph C. Simpson.

Tomorrow night at 9 o'clock when the gong strikes in the rooms of the California Athletic Club rooms across the bay, James J. Corbett, the San Francisco lad, and Peter Jackson, the Australian champion, will be called upon to meet each other face to face and battle with their fists until one shall fall, a defeated man. The battle will be for a $10,000 purse of which $500 will go to the winner and $1500 to the loser. It may be said that this battle will practically decide the championship of the world now that John L. Sullivan has retired. Jackson is favorite at 10 to 1.

E. A. Heron says that the big bath house near the Piedmont Cable Company's cable house will be ready for the public by June 10. It has taken a longer time than was expected to lay the tile in the Turkish bath.

Secretary Theobald of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has given custody of the baby found in the empty house on Monday to Mrs. M. Lavers of 123 Hannah street. He has, however, made her furnish an affidavit that she will not feed the child on rolled oats as she did the first day.

ARBITRATION SAFE SAYS ROOSEVELT

Former President Points to the Bulwark of Civilization.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Former President Roosevelt has an article on "The Arbitration Treaty With Great Britain in the Outlook. He says in part: "Between Great Britain and the United States it is now safe to have a universal arbitration treaty because the experience of ninety-six years has shown that the two nations have achieved that point of civilization where each can be trusted not to do to the other any of the offenses which ought to preclude any self-respecting nation from appealing to war."
Roosevelt refers to armed bodies of Mexican troops having fired across the boundary at the killing of a United States citizen, and says: "In this case we have chosen to submit to such invasion, as is our right and privilege if we so desire. But it would be absolutely intolerable to bind ourselves to arbitrate the questions raised by such invasions."
"In the same way, if a dispute arose between us and another nation as to whether we should receive the control of immigrants whom we did not desire from that nation, no one who knows anything of the temper of the American people would dream that they would for one moment consent to arbitrate the matter. In such a case we should say that our honor, our independence, our integrity and our very national existence were involved and that we could not submit such a question to arbitration."

CARNEGIE WRITES TO SCHOOL MA'AMS

Congratulates Teachers for the Celebration of Peace Day.

PITTSBURGH, May 19.—At a peace day observance in Carnegie Music Hall last night, attended by hundreds of school teachers, the following letter from Andrew Carnegie was read: "It gives me great pleasure to congratulate the teachers' association upon its celebration of peace day. There is a great deal to be said for counting your chickens before they are hatched, because if you do not act you might miss the chance of ever counting them at all, but you do well to celebrate peace day for another reason—it is bound to come and I believe it is going to come so soon that we will be surprised."
"Men no longer eat each other; they no longer kill prisoners, nor sack cities, nor poison wells and men of civilized countries no longer try to sell each other. It is sure that there will be many who hear these words who will also hear before they take their departure, that the civilized nations of the world have banished the selling of man by man as a means of settling international disputes."
George W. Guthrie, former mayor of Pittsburgh, who presided, declared that women, who are in the ranks of the peacemakers and to them would eventually be given credit for bringing about international peace.

How Ladies Improve Looks!

"Many ladies, old and young, suffer a round of tortures with their faces, and many are so frail, thin and bloodless that their splendid features are lost sight of, while a vain attempt to conceal the angularity of the figure, deceives no one but themselves and really excites the pity or ridicule of the world." said a little, largely employed practicing physician, in a recent lecture at a young ladies' college. "I do not mind exposing a little secret of mine to all such, as it can do no harm and may result in much happiness and health. It is simply this: Any thin, bloodless, nerve-tortured man or woman can become as fit as the fittest by taking regular doses of several months an easily obtained pharmaceutical product known by the profession and pharmacists as 'three-grain hypo-nutrient tablets,' put up in sealed packages with directions for home use."

BUDD WILL BASED ON NUMBER 13

Multiples of Character Used Throughout; Law 1313 Bars One Bequest.

STOCKTON, May 19.—What is without doubt the most curious will ever filed in the local courts was presented for probate by H. R. McNoble and Annie Caroline Hinthorn, executors. It was the last testament of Mrs. Inez Budd, wife of the late ex-Governor James H. Budd; who, contrary to general belief, always insisted that the number 13 was lucky. Mrs. Budd died on May 13, 1910, and was buried on the 13th. The document was in her own handwriting and was delivered to her attorney on May 13. Most of the estate of $125,000 goes to James Budd Dixon, a 7-year-old nephew. The ex-governor's library is also given to the nephew, but in case of his death it goes to the Stockton Library. The following are other bequests: To the Stockton Free Public Library; Merrill House, a grand nephew; Zelda O. Hulise, and Jean Tully, nieces; Ada Starkhouse, aunt of the late Governor Budd; Adella Merrill and Ellen Merrill, his cousins; Annie Caroline Hinthorn and Martha M. Deebie, friends, $2600 each.

EAST IS SWEEP BY WAVE OF HEAT

Many Serious Prostrations Are Recorded in Chicago and New York.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—All the way from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast a hot wave stretched throughout yesterday with temperatures almost breaking records in various cities and causing numerous prostrations. Washington and Richmond were yesterday the hottest places on the weather map, their official records running up to 95, against Washington's seasonal record-breaking 94 a week ago. Baltimore, Louisville and other cities, however, were close competitors. Thermometers in the shade here recorded 103 degrees.

LIFE FOR SLAYER.

UKIAH, May 19.—John Brown pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree in the Superior Court and was sentenced to life imprisonment in Folsom by Judge J. Q. White. Brown was led into court by Sheriff Ralph Byrnes, and stood apparently unconcerned during the entire procedure, but before being taken to his cell in the county jail he became very nervous and fainted.

SLAYS FATHER AT HIS REQUEST

Twelve-Year-Old Boy Says Parent Commanded Him to Fire.
GREENWICH, Conn., May 19.—Lester Husted, 12 years old, told the authorities yesterday that at his father's request he pulled the trigger of a shotgun which blew the left side of the elder man's head off.
Frederick Rusted, a wealthy farmer, was found in his home late yesterday, with his head partly blown off, and a shotgun lying on a table. The boy said that his father sent his mother away, called him into the house and laying the gun on a table, knelt so that his left eye was at the muzzle of the gun.
Then he said: "Pull the trigger; it is not loaded; I want to hear how it sounds."
The boy pulled the trigger, the charge of shot blowing away the left side of the father's face and head.
Repeated questions failed to shake the boy's story and the authorities decided they would have to call it a case of suicide.

HIGHER TARIFFS MAY BE CHARGED

Interstate Rates Prevail on the Railways When Greater Than Schedule.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Railways operating in central passenger association territory—including the states of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan—are permitted by an order issued today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to exact higher passenger fares for interstate than for intrastate business where state legislatures or state commissions have established a 5-cent-a-mile rate.

In the territory indicated, intrastate fares are on a 2-cent basis, while interstate fares are made on a scale of 2 1/2 cents a mile. The carriers are asked for time in which to prepare the necessary data on the insufficiency of the two-cent rate and the commission permits them, therefore, to exact the higher rate until May 1, 1912.

The commission expresses the opinion, however, that eventually there must be established an actual distinction in quality between intrastate and interstate service or the two scales of fares must be made equal.

WATER COMPANY EXPLAINS ISSUE

Small Mains and Little Business Cause of Light Piedmont Pressure.

In answer to charges against the Peoples Water Company, the most recent of the Piedmont Board of Trustees last night, Engineer George Wilhelm of the company stated today he would admit that the force of water was very poor but the company could not help matters at present. "If the section was more settled it would be able to plant large mains throughout all streets and receive some return. At the present time the company only receives from 1/4 to 2 per cent from this district. The conditions are not as good as they might be but the company is not in a position to better them at the present time."

VETERANS REMEMBER

THE UNKNOWN DEAD

BERKELEY, May 19.—Lookout Mountain Post, G. A. R., and Lookout Mountain Woman's Relief Corps, will hold a service for the unknown soldiers dead and present a peace and arbitration program this evening at Odd Fellows hall.

It is customary at this season to hold memorial service for members who have passed away during the year, but as the local lodge has lost no members it will hold a service for those heroes of the Civil War who sleep in unknown graves.

Besides the service of the order, there will be appropriate music, and Rev. George H. DeKay will deliver an address, paying a tribute to the unknown dead who lost their lives in the battles of the Civil War and those who went down in the ships at sea.

The meeting is to be a public one. The peace and arbitration program will be in charge of Mrs. Lucy D. Bailey, and Mrs. Carrie L. Hoyt will have charge of the memorial service.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Snow was falling this morning in Yellowstone park and it was freezing in Wyoming and Nevada, while in the middle west and eastern states were awaiting the next weather of the year.

A general break in the hot wave was predicted by the weather experts here, today within the next 36 or 48 hours, bringing relief to the populous section of the country where in the large cities the heat has caused many prostrations.

Treanor on the Redwood road above Key Road, tonight at 11:30 p.m. and for a time it was thought the entire group of outbuildings would be consumed because of the strong wind. There was nothing in the barn at the time. The loss has not been estimated.

A subdivision where the wage earner gets a square deal.

Lots average from $600 to $700 each; $500 secures a lot; $50 secures a deed. Full width, rock macadam streets. Wide cement sidewalks. Best sewer system in the district. Fine soil and climate in the county. Curbs, pure water, electricity, storm sewers, clear title, easy terms. No taxes or interest until July, 1912. Perfect natural drainage; high and dry. No fog or winds. Close to schools. No street assessments. Nothing misrepresented. No charge for deeds.

—Pay the rent to your own wife

"It's great business to be a landlord," said a well-known builder to the writer yesterday. "Your tenants pay for all your lots and cottages in ten or twelve years and you find yourself in possession of twenty or thirty thousand dollars' worth of property at no expense except a little repair work and the pleasant pastime of collecting the rentals."

—Any man who has paid $25 rent for the past ten years has paid out enough to buy a $3000 place for his landlord. This figure takes no interest into consideration which if figured at 6% would bring the total up to $3940.20.

—Now, then, Mr. Reader, why don't you be your OWN landlord—or better still, pay the rent to your own wife—put HER in this landlord business?

—For $50 cash we will give you a deed to a $500 lot in the Fremont Tract near Mills College.

—You can build a temporary home on the back half of this lot for a couple of hundred dollars and go right out there now and live.

—Start in by paying your wife $25 a month rent; $5 of this will be used to pay the installments on the lot. There will be no interest or taxes, because we pay both.

—This enables you to save $20 a month or $240 a year or approximately $500 in two years.

—With $500 and your lot one-third paid for you can come to us (or to any building contractor) and arrange to build a $2500 bungalow.

—Now then, a $2500 bungalow is a pretty fine proposition (most of them cost about $1800 or $2000).

—When you get your home completed go right on paying the rent to your wife just as if some other fellow had built it for you, and the first thing you know she will surprise you some day by burning up a mortgage in the parlor grate and notifying you that you are from $3000 to $4000 better off than you would have been if you had stuck along in the rent-payers' rut.

—We advise you to buy your lot in the Fremont Tract because these lots are sure to be desirable in the future and are selling at very low prices today and on the easiest of terms without interest or taxes until July, 1912.

—The Foothill Boulevard is to be extended right through this property—the Key Route have a right of way along the boulevard and have ALREADY PURCHASED an entire row of lots in the Fremont Tract.

—Two car lines are now running within a block of either side of this tract and High street (one of the longest cross-roads in the county) fronts the property its entire length.

—Talk this matter over with your wife—look up your old rent receipts—add 'em up and if the answer isn't in favor of at least INVESTIGATING this proposition, we will be greatly surprised.

HOW TO GET THERE

—Take the Mills College cars on Twelfth street, Oakland, and get off at the Fremont Tract. Every lot has a card on the stake giving all details. If you find a lot you like, tear off the tag and bring it in to us with $5 or $10 and we will hold the lot for you.

HOW DO YOU FEEL AFTER BREAKFAST?

Sort of bloated? Big, as if you had eaten too much? That's from gas in your stomach. If it were only the discomfort gas produces, it wouldn't be so bad, but it's the damage gas does by distending your stomach, which in turn presses against your lungs, liver, heart and kidneys.

It takes just about one week to positively and permanently remove this with Bismarck's Gas Tablets. Take two before and two after meals, and at the end of one week you will have no more gas, no more difficult breathing, no more belching, no more bloating, and last of all, your whole health will improve, and enjoy every morsel of food you take without fear of gas.

And all this you can obtain with one 50-cent bottle of Bismarck's Gas Tablets. These peculiar tablets are sold for 50c a bottle by nearly every druggist. If not in stock tell him to get them for you from his wholesaler, or send 50c in silver, stamps or money order to Habermann Pharmacy, 324 Sutter street, San Francisco, Cal.

The Seventh Street Improvement Club appointed M. K. Houghton last night as inspector to see that the paving of Seventh street, from Fallon to Bay streets, is carried out in a satisfactory manner. The thoroughfare will be paved by the Oakland Paving Company for the Southern Pacific railroad at a cost of $300,000. As it was chiefly due to the efforts of the improvement club that the railroad was granted a franchise on Seventh street for the installation of its electrical suburban system, which involved the paving of the street by the company, the club council has granted the Seventh Street Improvement Club the privilege of appointing an official to see that the agreement between the city and the Southern Pacific is carried out to the letter.

On motion of James McElroy it was decided to appoint additional street paving inspectors.

CLUBS JOIN HANDS.

At last night's meeting it was announced that the South Seventh Street Improvement Club had consolidated with the organization. The former organization had a membership of 100. President George L. Yager appointed a committee to confer with the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies and the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company in an effort to have the concerns lay underground cables along Seventh street to do away with the present poles on either side of the street. It will also make an effort to have objectionable billboards torn down along the thoroughfare in an effort to beautify it. The club met at Cadets' hall, at Seventh and Jefferson streets.

GAS ASPHYXIATION MAY PROVE FATAL

Domestic Found Unconscious in Room at Y. W. C. A. in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—After coming here almost penniless and seeking employment in vain, Johanna Sullivan, 25 years old, was found unconscious from gas asphyxiation in her room at the Young Women's Christian Association at 9 o'clock this morning. Although the young woman was known to be in almost the association insist that she did not attempt to end her life, but that accident is responsible for her condition. To bear out this theory is the fact that when Mrs. Pourie, one of the managers, rushed to her room when other occupants had reported the odor of gas, she found Miss Sullivan endeavoring to get out of bed. The door was not locked and it is the theory of the association people that she inadvertently failed to completely turn off the stop-cock.

She came here from Los Angeles on May 15. She was removed to the Central Emergency hospital and may not recover.

REPORT OF PASTOR'S CALL TO STOCKTON PREMATURE

The report to the effect that Rev. Joseph B. Travis of East Oakland had received a call to the First Baptist Church of Stockton was denied this morning by Mrs. Travis, who stated that nothing had been definitely decided in the matter. It is expected by his friends that the call will be issued by the congregation in the near future. The pulpit of the First Baptist Church of Stockton was occupied by Rev. E. S. Van Ness, who recently left the parish for a trip to New Jersey.

C. A. building the committee recommended that members of the Church Federation and churches endorse the reorganization. The committee is placed on the board of directors.

DECLARES FREIGHT RATES ARE EXCESSIVE

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Declaring that the freight rates between Des Moines, Ia., and Rock Island, Peoria and Chicago are "grossly excessive, unreasonable and illegal," fifty-three business concerns of Des Moines complained today to the Interstate Commerce Commission against railroads serving the territory.

Is there anything in all this world that is of more importance to you than good digestion? Food must be eaten to sustain life and must be digested and converted into blood. When the digestion fails the whole body suffers. Chamberlain's Tablets are a rational and reliable cure for indigestion. They increase the flow of bile, purify the blood, strengthen the stomach, and tone up the whole digestive apparatus to a natural and healthy action. For sale by Osgood Bros' drug stores.

WORE THINGS THAN THE MOVING PICTURE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 19.—Because there are so many other forms of lawful amusement they think are worse than moving picture shows, the club women of Kansas City, Kas., at a meeting held yesterday went on record in favor of the operation of the shows on Sunday. The question was brought up by a recent order of the attorney general of Kansas ordering all moving picture shows closed on Sunday. Last Sunday the shows were operated in defiance of the orders from the attorney general, but no arrests have followed.

WOMAN MAYOR IS ADVISED TO SMILE

Official of Hunnewell Told to Grin at General Criticism.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 19.—"Smile and do not take too seriously the comment made by citizens. When one enters public service he or she must be prepared to take criticism. All the little doings of a public officer occupying the high position of mayor are the subjects of free comment on the part of the free citizens."

This was the advice to Mrs. Ella Wilson, mayor of Hunnewell, Kan., in a letter yesterday by Attorney General John S. Dawson. The mayor had complained to Governor Stubbs, who referred the matter to the attorney general.

Mrs. Wilson in her complaint said the councilman refused to meet at the place she named and she told of a person from a Glasgow, Scotland, paper in which the woman police officers of Hunnewell were shown arresting a burly burglar.

"Don't twist my arm," said the burglar, "I'll go quietly." Under the picture was poetry and this and the picture were criticized by the mayor. In closing his letter Mr. Dawson says:

"I can assure you that you will be protected in your rights and the laws of the State and city ordinances of your town will be obeyed if it takes the whole power of the State of Kansas to back you up."

BULLS UNABLE TO SUPPORT PRICES

Prospects of Cooler Weather Causes Lower Figures for Produce and Cereals.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 19.—Forecast of somewhat cooler weather with scattered showers; general rains in Russia and predictions of large world shipments, had a discouraging effect on the bulls today. So, likewise, did the fact that demand in the pit was unusually slow. Opening figures were a shade to 88¢, a loss of a sixteenth to 84¢; touched 83¢ and fell back to 83½¢.

Corn showed a little firmness at the outset, but the market soon sagged with wheat. July opened a shade lower to 1½¢ up at 82½¢ to 82½¢, and later hung around the under level.

Rather plentiful offerings checked the talk of drought from having much bullish influence on oats. July started unchanged to 3½¢ up at 34½¢ and stood at the first level.

Provisions displayed more power of absorption than expected. First sales were 2½¢ higher to 2½¢ off, with July at 14.75 for pork, 8.07½ for lard and 7.77½ to 7.80 for ribs.

CONSTITUTION FOR ALSACE LORRAINE

Reischtag Approves Bill to Cement the Relations With Conquered Provinces.

BERLIN, May 19.—After prolonged bargaining, the committee of the Reichstag today recommended the government's bill providing a constitution for Alsace Lorraine.

The support of the Socialists was secured by abolishing the proposed plural voting. The original measure provided that the lower chamber should be made up of members elected by universal suffrage of 25 years or over and voters over 35 years of age should have two votes, and those voters three votes.

The Clericals were won over by concessions in the matter of religious freedom and an arrangement for the French language will be used officially, and in the schools for the use of the Alsace-Lorraine where there is a French speaking population.

ENDEAVORERS TO HOLD BIG PICNIC IN NILES CANYON

MISS MAUDE GERRIOR, missionary superintendent of the Christian Endeavor Union, who is working hard to make that organization's picnic tomorrow a success.

Extensive plans have been made for the annual Christian Endeavor and Sunday school picnic tomorrow at Niles Canyon. The committee in charge has secured special trains to be run from Oakland, and an unusually large crowd is expected to be present.

In the afternoon a program of varied sports will be given, including shot put, 50 and 100-yard dashes, a half-mile run and freak races for women and children. A basketball game is also among the list of events. John Rhoda has charge of the games and sports, while other members of the combined Christian Endeavor Union and Sunday School Union committee are: L. A. Ward, general chairman; Alfred Dingle, prizes; Reese Martin and G. Caldwell, publicity. Miss Maude Gerrior, missionary superintendent of the county Christian Endeavor Union, and daughter of the Rev. J. P. Gerrior, pastor of the Elmhurst Presbyterian Church, is also a prominent worker for the success of the picnic.

PLAN IMPROVEMENTS FOR STATE CAPITOL

SACRAMENTO, May 19.—George G. Radcliffe, superintendent of the State Capitol and grounds, is preparing to spend the $25,000 appropriated by the last Legislature for the improvement of the grounds. The most important change to be made will be an underground conduit system of lighting. All overhead wires will be removed and the present lighting system will be replaced with a series of ornamental lights. The rear driveway will be built over and the level of many of the walks will be changed. There will be a huge lily pond placed in a conspicuous place, more terraces and beds provided and the grounds generally improved. PHARMACY BY MAIL

BRANDED IMPOSSIBLE

SACRAMENTO, May 19.—"Pharmacy can't be taught by correspondence," declared Dr. Albert Schneider, member of the faculty of the University of California College of Pharmacy, to the California druggists who are attending the fifth annual convention of the California Pharmaceutical Association. Dr. Schneider said that one could not become a druggist simply by clerking in a drug store, or by home study.

He followed up this statement, made during the session held on board the steamer Capital City on a Sacramento river trip, by saying that druggists should graduate from a reputable college of pharmacy before being admitted to the State examinations. His remarks were provoked by the discussion of a paper read by J. G. Munson of San Jose.

MAIL FOUND ON DEAD MAN REACHES SEATTLE

SEATTLE, May 19.—Letters found in the mail pouches of the Canadian mounted policemen who were frozen to death last December while bound from Herschel Island, in the Arctic ocean, to Dawson, have been received.

They report that the power boats North Star and Teddy Bear, owned in Seattle, had reached a point in the Arctic ocean 300 miles east of the mouth of the Mackenzie river, passing Cape Fahlurst into Franklin bay, near where the mounds emerged after his discovery of the Northwest Passage.

Both vessels are engaged in trading and whaling. They will not undertake to make the Northwest Passage from the west, but will keep a lookout for the two Northwest Passage expeditions which are in the Arctic.

ATTEMPT TO BURN VICTIM AT STAKE

New York Boy Accuses Older Youths of Binding Him to a Tree.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., May 19.—A sensation has been caused here by the arrest of two 17-year-old school boys on a charge preferred by Avery Murphy, 14 years old, who claims they tied him to a tree and attempted to burn him alive in Indian fashion.

Murphy alleged that the accused boys waylaid and proceeded to overpower him and bind his hands and feet. He was tied to a tree and then his captors whooped around him like Indian braves. Finally, he says, they gathered papers and twigs and started a fire at his feet. He became hysterical and screamed, but succeeded after several desperate efforts in stamping out the fire beneath him and releasing himself after the older boys had left the scene.

Many a time honored and threadbare theory of the shoe world has been exploded by the Park Shoe Co. method of merchandising, the latest being the complete refutation of the old song of the high priced dealer. "It is impossible to get fitted in a shoe of moderate cost." Many people who in times past patronized the high priced stores have learned that they can fill THEIR SHOE NEEDS AT LOWER PRICES by trading at the Park Shoe Co. They have further learned to their surprise that it does not involve the slightest reduction in character, in quality, in style or in the fit of the shoes they buy.

PAYLOWA FLEES IN RAGE FROM PRESENCE OF ROYALTY

Russian Dancer's Temperament Again Forces Quarrel With Mordkin.

LONDON, May 19.—Mme. Pavlova and M. Mordkin, the Russian dancers, quarreled before royalty at the fancy dress ball for the Prince Francis of Teck memorial fund at the Savoy hotel.

Shortly before midnight Prince Arthur of Connaught, Princess Alexandra of Teck and Prince Alexander of Battenberg entered the royal box. On the stroke of midnight the Russian Dancers, dressed in full Russian costume, entered the center of the hall, surrounded by 2000 noted persons.

Mordkin immediately took his cue and commenced to dance, but Pavlova remained with the ballet and refused to dance.

As Mordkin finished he said something in return to Pavlova, who started to weep and three minutes later rushed from the hall.

Sues for Divorce

RENO, May 19.—Cora Isabel Wescott has filed a suit for divorce from Captain C. T. Wescott of the United States marine corps, stationed at Baltimore. Incompatibility of temperament is charged in the complaint.

Mrs. Wescott was a society belle in the eastern city. Her maiden name was Abrams. She has been one of the most popular members of the Reno colony.

Although divorce papers have been ordered left unsealed by the judges of the district court, County Clerk Fogg refuses to allow the public to see any papers on file in his office.

Captain Wescott was married only a few years ago and have no children.

Advertising Cause

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Quite the latest suffragette movement in London is the keeping of a shop in which commodities are wrapped in the suffrage colors, purple and yellow, and where the admonition "Votes for Women" is stamped in vivid letters.

Mrs. Adrian von Behrens, who recently returned from London, who is not a suffragette, nor even yet a suffragist, but who is a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Lawrence, two trading advocates of "the cause" in England, told the members of the women's suffrage party about it yesterday afternoon.

In Clement's inn, London, is one of these shops, selling tea, with the purple and gold wrappers; playing cards, stamped with gay patterns in the colors and the words, "Votes for Women"; and dainty boxes of cigarettes with the same inscription.

Mrs. von Behrens described this mode of making money and keeping the idea before the public.

The folk dancing exhibition given by the pupils of the high school, intermediate and primary classes of the Horton School, this afternoon in the Armory, Eleventh and Market streets, was one of the most interesting events of the week. It marked the last social function to be given by members of the various departments of the school prior to the graduation exercises which will be held in the Home Club next Wednesday evening.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Shafter the European dances were exemplified by a company of clever performers. The hall was filled with members of the faculty of the school, parents of the participants and their friends.

Comes Far for Bride

PORTLAND, Ore., May 19.—The culmination of a romance which began four years ago in the University of Washington took place here last evening, when Miss Hilda Helen Gumbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gumbert, was married to Ensign Ruchin Robert Smith of the monitor Monterey, now stationed at Manila. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, 660 Kearney street.

The couple will spend their honeymoon in the Orient, sailing from San Francisco on the transport Buford June 5. Ensign Smith will return to the Monterey on the expiration of his leave of absence in the early autumn.

It was while Ensign Smith was with the battleship Nebraska, then at the Bremerton navy yard, and Miss Gumbert was a student at the University of Washington that the friendship began which ripened into love, and this month brought the young naval officer 9000 miles across land and sea to claim his bride.

He was taken to his home. Fire Marshal Towle is conducting an investigation.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Henry O. Selxas, a widely known financier and a director in many prominent industrial corporations, committed suicide in Central Park this afternoon by shooting himself. The body was found just east of the west drive opposite Seventy-ninth street. Col. Selxas was about seventy years of age.

No cause has as yet been learned for Colonel Selxas' self-destruction. The colonel was a director of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Coke Company, Lanston Machine Company and Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company.

Mr. Whitehouse, the colonel's broker, said that in the collapse of the Columbus and Hocking pool the colonel had been badly hit and since that time had been nervous and morose. He was a bachelor and lived alone.

OF OAKLAND EAGLES' SHOW

MISS ROSE PETERS, who will have one of the leading roles in the big Eagles' Vaudeville Show on May 29 and 30 at the Macdonough Theater.

The demand for boxes at the Eagles' big show is so great that reservations are already being made, although the regular sale of reserved seats does not open until next Monday morning at the Macdonough theater.

The final selection of talent and specialties will be made at the rehearsal Friday evening, and the chorus of one hundred voices will be thoroughly blended for the production, which promises to be one of the best amateur vaudeville shows ever given in Oakland. Among the special features will be the "Kiss Me" double sextette, comprising a bevy of pretty girls and boys. The "Hotten-tot Love Song" by a sextette in beautiful costume, dancing, specialties and fun makers. Among those who will appear in the performance is Miss Rose Peters, who has one of the leading roles.

As the big show is given for the purpose of raising funds to entertain the visiting Eagles during Oakland day at the Grand convention the project is a laudable one, and much interest is being taken in the production. The advance sale of tickets gives every encouragement to the committee that packed audiences will greet the players on both nights, as well as the Memorial Day matinee.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—J. Howard of 561 Thirty-first street, Oakland, had his pocket picked of $22.50 in the playground at Golden Gate park this morning.

HEARS OF BROTHER.
BERKELEY, May 19.—Balliff John Boyd, poet and former expressman, has learned something of the history of a brother who was killed at Fort Assiniboine, Montana, years ago.

He has received a letter from Brigadier General Charles A. Woodruff, superintendent of the Yosemite soldiers' home, telling of the brother's life from 1871 to 1876.

George W. Boyd was a famous Indian scout of Montana and took part in many campaigns. For five years he was hunter, scout and agent for Jack Simmons, agent at the Milk River agency in heart of the Sioux buffalo ground. Later he was a scout in the campaigns of General Nelson A. Miles against the Sioux and Nez Percés.

Rebels Mistake Own
Troops for Federals,
Fire and Wound Five

NACO, Sonora, Mexico, May 19.—The advance guard of General Lomeli's rebel force, marching west from Agua Prieta, was mistaken for a force of Federal troops early today and fired on by the insurrecto garrison at Naco. Five rebels and one civilian were shot and seriously wounded before the garrison discovered its mistake. It is believed that some of the wounded who were brought to the American side for treatment will die.

CUERNAVACA, Mex., May 19.—A sanguinary battle is being fought at Cuautla, 20 miles southeast of here, between the federal garrison under Colonel Munua and a force of rebels commanded by Colonel Zapata. Fugitives arriving here today state that the streets of Cuautla are strewn with dead and wounded.

A messenger left here last night for Cuautla, carrying the news of the armistice which, it is hoped, will put an end to the fighting. General Figueroa is leading 3000 rebel troops from Iguala, presumably en route for this city.

Cuernavaca is the capital of the state of Morelos, has a population of 3000 and is forty miles south of Mexico City.

Bandits Raid City
of Imures and Loot
and Kill Chinese

IMURES, Sonora, Mexico, May 19.—Bandits raided the Chinese quarter here last night, murdering eight Chinese, and leaving three others so badly wounded that they were believed to be dead. The gardens and stores owned by the Chinese were looted. This butchery has resulted in a general exodus of Chinese who control the truck gardens and merchandise trade of the West coast. Imures is a small station on the Mexican line of the Southern Pacific railway forty-nine miles south of Nogales.

Madero's Plan for Trip Unaltered by Mexico City Rumors

JUAREZ, Mexico, May 19.—Plans for the departure to Mexico City within a matter of days of Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr., received a setback this morning when a member of the El Paso revolutionary junta received a telegram from the capital stating that persistent rumors were in circulation there of the existence of a plot to attempt the life of Madero upon his arrival.

Beyond this bare statement the message gave no details, but the matter was considered seriously enough to result in a hurried consultation of insurrecto leaders as to the advisability of postponing the trip of Madero until such time as the reports were disproved or affairs in the capital were in a more settled condition.

"I am going to Mexico City. I have confidence in the federal government. Rumors that some one may do me personal harm are to me of no consequence."

In this manner Francisco I. Madero, Jr., dismissed the report from Mexico City this morning. Rumors were in circulation that an attempt would be made on his life when he arrived at the capital, and urging that precautions be taken.

Outside of this sudden unfavorable phase there were no developments in the situation this morning. Madero and his advisers are still awaiting an answer from Mexico City as to the immediate naming of the provisional government, the remainder to be nominated later, and until a reply to this is received peace negotiations practically are at a standstill. No doubt is expressed, however, that the answer will be favorable.

Every officer on the staff of the provisional president, it was announced today, had donated six months' salary as a fund for the widows and children of insurrecto soldiers killed during the revolution.

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, May 19.—The Southern Pacific dispatched a train southward toward Hermosillo early today. If it can get through to the capital it will return tonight and regular service will be resumed. Should it be found, however, that there have been further depredations along the line, railroad officials announce no further attempt will be made to resume service.

LIGHT ARTILLERY BATTERY WILL BE ORGANIZED HERE

Recruiting Begins Under the Direction of Captain R. J. Faneuf, and Organization to Be Completed by June 1

Adjutant General E. A. Forbes has given authority for the organization of a battery of light artillery in Oakland and enrollment will begin at once. Captain R. J. Faneuf of the Fifth Infantry has been delegated to proceed with the recruiting at once and headquarters for mustering and signing the rolls were opened last evening at 511 Thirteenth street. Adjutant General Forbes has fixed June 1 as the date for the completion of the enrollment. Captain Faneuf has already enrolled over twenty veterans. The recruiting office will be open each evening between 8 and 9 o'clock, except Saturday and Sunday. The complement of the battery will consist of four officers and ninety men and as soon as organization and enrollment is complete active instruction for the members will begin, with both guns and horses to be provided by the State. The new battery is a portion of a comparatively new branch of the military service in California. Prior to the Spanish war there were several field artillery organizations in the State, which have since been either mustered out or merged with the infantry branch.

The organization, once fully mustered, will have the use of property belonging to the national government, valued at $85,000. The battery will consist of four rapid fire field pieces of 3-inch calibre. A regular artillery officer and a non-commissioned officer will be detailed from the regular army headquarters to instruct in drill and the use of weapons. Any citizen between the ages of 18 and 45 is eligible to enlistment.

As soon as the organization of the battery is effected provision will be made for an armory. A preliminary consultation was held yesterday at this matter between Mayor Mott and General Forbes, but nothing definite will be decided until the battery is organized and equipped.

Condition of Diaz
Very Satisfactory
to His Physicians

MEXICO CITY, May 19.—The condition of President Diaz continues very satisfactory to his physicians, who said it was likely that the executive would leave his room during the day. He is said to be in good spirits, and except for the trouble caused by an ulcerated tooth in excellent health. This morning he received callers in his chamber at the palace and transacted some official business.

The news that Francisco I. Madero Jr., the leader of the rebellion, is to come to the capital was received with great interest here. When it was made known last night to Foreign Minister de la Barra he appeared surprised, but said he would facilitate Madero's arrival by any further agreements that might be necessary pending the visit. The coming of Madero is accepted here as meaning that the armistice will be continued as a permanent peace pact basis, the terms of which will be announced by the government officials in this city.

SAN LEANDRO
CARNIVAL
PLANS

Monday Will Be Post Card Day
in Interest of Cherry Festival.

The Fete This Year Promises to Surpass All Previous Efforts.

SAN LEANDRO, May 19.—"Don't forget that Monday will be post-card day in San Leandro!"

This is the passing watchword of all loyal residents of San Leandro these merry, cherry days. Cherries by the wagonload will be given away to every visitor to the San Leandro cherry festival to be held here next month. The committee in charge of the festivities has chosen the best time of year to hold the festival—that is the season when the black cherries begin to ripen.

The post-cards have been beautifully engraved with a large cherry branch and will be sold for one cent each by the leading merchants of the town. All residents of the county have been requested by the committee to secure a goodly supply of these cards and send them to their Eastern friends, who at this time of the year are paying as high as $5 per box for cherries.

Further arrangements have been made with several fraternal orders to march in the parade, while the Oakland Chamber of Commerce has promised to boost along the good cause. On account of the large quantity of business on hand in the Oakland chamber it is doubtful whether any of the members will be able to be on hand to represent the organization on the opening day.

EYES OF WORLD TURNS THIS WAY

Berkeleyan Abroad Finds the People Interested in Coming Exposition Here.

BERKELEY, May 19. — Stephen J. Sill, a prominent merchant of Berkeley, who is traveling in Europe, accompanied by his wife, has written to Secretary Drury of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce telling of the way in which the people abroad are beginning to talk about the Panama-Pacific Exposition. "I think San Francisco will have a world-record breaking exposition," writes Sill, "and my reason for thinking so is that the biggest men and the biggest concerns are the ones that are taking the most interest in the event. Just mention California and you are bound to hear something about the big fair. At London, Rome, Paris, Nice, Turin, everywhere, leading companies told me they were preparing to go to California and make exhibits or to take some sort of enterprise. All will get there, of course, but there will be enough to make it a stupendous success. "I am talking up the exposition wherever I go, but the people here do about as much talking about it as I can. Such wide-spread interest is marvelous. At the time I was in Turin, and he says that although the Turin exposition has been declared open with a blare of trumpets, only one building is completed. The American building is small, located in an obscure corner and not half finished. "I hope the same mistake will not be made in San Francisco by not having the exposition ready when the gates are opened," concludes the writer.

PIONEER TO TOUR WHOLE COAST ON AUTOMOBILE TRIP

CAPTAIN R. M. CRESWELL, who tours land for first time in thirty-five years, and Mrs. Creswell.

ALAMEDA, May 19. — A "booster" dog is the mascot expected to accompany Captain R. M. Creswell, the 62-year-old owner of the Point Loma ferry, and his wife, on an automobile tour of the coast. The couple will make a trip from San Diego to Portland without extra tires and little other equipment.

"For thirty-five years I have lived on the water," said the ferry owner today, "and I decided last month to give myself a rest and could think of nothing better than an automobile trip through the prettiest part of the country."

Although the trip will be made by the couple primarily for health and pleasure, it will have a secondary object of advertising the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Diego in 1915. The seal of the Exposition and banners will be attached to the machine.

Captain Creswell is a member of the San Diego Exposition committee, and owner of the Point Loma ferry, which plies between San Diego, Point Loma and Fort Rosecrans. Captain and Mrs. Creswell left San Diego, April 28, and will spend six months on the road before returning to their home. The sea captain will drive the car the entire distance, the route covering Sacramento, Lake Tahoe, Mount Shasta, Portland, Oregon, Seattle, Spokane, Walla Walla. At Portland the auto will be shipped home. The tour will be made in a five-passenger machine. Captain and Mrs. Creswell made a visit of a day this week with Mrs. Andrew Ryan of 2058 San Antonio avenue. The automobile travelers already have covered 1300 miles in their roundabout journey from San Diego to this city. "They have named their machine the 'booster flyer'."

MASSON IS HERE TO FLY SUNDAY

Famous Aviator Is Scheduled for Two Flights at Fourth Avenue Heights.

Masson, who was to fly at Fourth Avenue Heights two weeks ago, is here and will positively fly Sunday. He and his mechanics have been working night and day to get the machine in shape. Even Masson's managers can never tell just what stunts he will perform when he goes up in the air. It is probable he will soar over the bay, landing on Goat Island. At Santa Barbara a short time ago Masson, after flying around aviation field, doing dare-devil drops and dips, flew two miles out to sea, alighting on his return on the lawn at the feet of thousands of spectators. He will make two flights Sunday, at 10 o'clock in the morning and 2 in the afternoon.

There will also be a balloon ascension with a man dropping in a parachute. Everything points to an interesting time Sunday at Fourth Avenue Heights. Automobile parties are being planned from all around the bay. Clarence Walker, the millionaire aviator from Santa Mateo, will be there with his machine. He will not fly this time, it is said. One can't tell, though. His wife might not be looking and he is liable to slip into a machine and away. Who can tell?

When purchasing a new piano today from the Oakland store or any other Wiley B. Allen Co. store, you have the protection of knowing that the piano purchased today can not be sold you or any one else for one dollar less, no matter at what future date and under no conditions.

OUR KEY NOTE OF SUCCESS IS YOUR BANK NOTE OF PROTECTION. You buy with every dollar invested here ALL that can be procured for a like amount at any piano warehouse the world over. If we had asked prices that were not right, this fact would have been made apparent by a paucity of sales. No truer expression of the public faith in this principle can be found than the daily unsolicited sales that accrue from conservative buyers, who have looked elsewhere and find the price asked for our goods at first, last and all the time is less than that submitted by our competitors after sundry discounts have been allowed.

You owe this same protection to yourself as others have found it profitable to consider.

SALE OF EVERS ESTATE TOMORROW

George Austin Will Auction Valuable Realty in the Heart of City.

Owing to the plans for the extension of Jefferson street through to San Pablo there is much interest being taken in the sale of the Evers estate at auction on Saturday by George W. Austin. There have been many inquiries regarding this property and much speculation as to the value at this point of San Pablo and along Jefferson street when cut through.

The Evers estate has fifty feet frontage between Eleventh and Albert, a block which will face the head of Jefferson street upon extension. It is the estate of the late Henry Evers, formerly corner of Alameda county.

The property of 100 feet frontage upon San Pablo, directly opposite corner of A. A. Moore of San Francisco, through which the street would have to be cut, was appraised at $1000 a foot with regard to condemnation, and the valuation accepted by the Board of Public Works. The buildings upon it were appraised at $25,000.

There are other properties to be sold Saturday and much interest is being taken in the auction.

CHILDREN'S DEATH CAUSES COMMENT

Hints of Poisoning and Other Unusual Features Attach to Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Mystery surrounds the death within a week of two children belonging to Mrs. Albert Green of 22 Vulcan street, and the neighbors in that vicinity suspect that the Green children were poisoned by some enemy of the family. Edwin Green, the baby, was seized with convulsions on May 6 and died four hours later. Albert, 4 years old, was taken ill the same night Edwin died, and died a few days later. Tuesday, Martin, 2½ years old, was taken sick with the same mysterious ailment, but was rushed to the German hospital and is getting better.

To deepen the mystery of the tragedy some woman called Mrs. Green up on the telephone last Friday evening. The same evening her second baby was buried.

"Hello, Mrs. Green; are you lonely now?" the voice said with a cackling laugh. Be careful or the rest of your family will go too."

The mother was driven almost frantic by the mysterious message coupled with three anonymous post cards received by the Green family from Oakland last January, carrying the same veiled threats. The neighborly suspicion that a poisoner is at work, but this suspicion is not shared by the police, although an investigation is being made. The doctors said that the baby died of pneumonia, and the second child of asphyxia. John J. Lewis, one of the investigators, has asked the police to have the bodies disinterred for examination.

STAR RIDERS RACE AT SUNDAY'S MEET

Motordrome Scene of Coming National Championship Races.

(BY J. A. HOULIHAN.)

Interest in the coming national championship meet of motorcycle races, to be run on Sunday, at the Motordrome, by the San Francisco Motorcycle club, is at a high pitch and the big crowd will, no doubt, be on hand when the first race is called at 2 o'clock sharp.

The winners in each of the novice, trade rider and professional classes are eligible for competition in the final championship races to be run in Chicago on Memorial day. They will leave Oakland for the east immediately after the running of Sunday's events.

Preceding the meet, to be exact, the motorcycle clubs from both San Francisco and Oakland will line up for a big motorcycle parade through the streets of San Francisco on Saturday night. The entire party will then come over to Oakland on a special boat which has been chartered for the purpose, on the Creek route and ride through the main streets of Oakland.

The coming races are the first of a national character since Graves' Whiskey run in these parts and the club boys intend making it one of the most successful ever held in any city in the country. Wednesday night, at the meeting of the San Francisco club, final arrangements tending towards making the meet a huge success were concluded and no one is better fitted for the honor of so doing. A California boy in every sense of the word, Seymour has made rapid strides to the front since taking up motorcycle racing as a means of earning a livelihood.

Walter Collins, who three years ago was considered without an equal in the motor bike world, is another of the Indian riders who has been selected to ride under the colors of this factory. Collins proved a star performer on the Santa Rosa track, winning out in two of the races in which he was a contestant. McNeil, riding for the Thor factory, was a consistent winner at Salt Lake City last season and in his only race on the coast this year, at the opening of the Motordrome, hard luck and misfortune kept him from being placed in the race. He figured on all this week McNeil has been out to the Elmhurst Speedway preparing diligently for the coming meet and he is confident of the outcome in so far as he is concerned.

Among the trade riders, Don Johns, the present world's champion, is meeting two worthy foes in Alzini, the little Italian rider who first sprung into the limelight a few weeks back. Broadwick is another of the amateur riders who are classed as trade riders, that Don Johns will have to beat out before he can expect to bring home first prize for his company and win for himself the honor of defending his title again at the Memorial day finals in Chicago.

SEVENTY LOYAL SONS GATHER AT A BANQUET

Over seventy young men assembled at the banquet of the Loyal Sons' class No. 1 at the First Christian church last night. It was an enthusiastic and happy gathering and the most successful of the kind ever given by the class, which has recently received over thirty new members. The large banquet room was appropriately decorated in the colors of the organization, white and blue, while flowers were used in abundance in adding beauty to the scene. The president, Frank J. Bosk, Bruce Dixon, toastmaster, and in his opening remarks told of the splendid growth of the class. Among those responding to toasts were L. Ray Ogden, Clifford Cross, Frank J. Bosk, Bruce Dixon and Will H. Brown. Bruce Dixon made a happy talk as representative of the new members. Charles Frink, president of the Loyal Sons of Stockton, was introduced and told of the progress made by his organization. Officers who spoke were Alvin Owen, J. T. Rye and Lucius Hicks.

Leather Trust Causes All Your Shoe Troubles

Profits—profits—profits are the one aim of the Leather Trust. It controls the tanneries. It works hand in glove with the Hide Trust. It runs up the price of leather—it cheapens the quality.

You see now why the average shoe costs you so much—and why its quality is so bad.

Endicott, Johnson & Co. are the only shoe manufacturers of this country who are independent of the Leather Trust, the Hide Trust and all Middlemen.

They buy their hides in the open markets of the world. They own their tanneries—they tan every pound of leather they put into their shoes. They sell direct from the factory to your home shoe dealer.

Endicott-Johnson shoes are firm and solid—but pliable and comfortable to the feet. They have style—and they hold their style, because the good leather has back-bone to withstand wear and weather.

They come to you 50 cents to $1.00 cheaper than any other shoes of the same general appearance—they pay no profits to Trusts or Middlemen. Ask your local Endicott-Johnson dealer for ENDWELL (Goodyear Welt) shoes—dress and business shoes, selling at $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

ENDWELL shoes give you your choice of two hundred styles in Shoes and Oxfords, lace and button—all the modish lasts—every width and shape of toe—all colors of leather.

Look for this name stamped in every shoe—

Shoe buyers who live outside the city where this paper is published can learn the names of their home dealers who carry ENDWELL shoes by writing to Endicott, Johnson & Co., Endicott, N. Y.

ATTEMPT AT "FIXING" WILL LEAD TO ARREST

SAN JOSE, May 19.—District Attorney Free and his deputies are endeavoring to locate the man who is said to have approached W. F. Pearce, a rancher, with a proposition to "fix" a serious charge against him in which a young girl's name was mentioned.

Pearce alleges that an unidentified man, representing himself to be a peace officer, came to him and made the proposition, declaring that it could be "fixed up" through Attorney Jeff Maloy. Pearce told the district attorney that he had seen Maloy and that Maloy had amplified the proposition.

The musical novelty of the year

The concerts of the wonderful Imperial Russian Balalaika Court Orchestra have been the sensational event of the present musical season.

The balalaika, originally a primitive peasant's instrument with a tone similar to that of a mandolin, has been developed and improved by the conductor of this organization into a novel orchestra of great range, with instruments varying in size from that of a mandolin to a small-sized double-bass.

Imperial Russian Balalaika Court Orchestra

The technical skill and precision of these twenty-five gifted players are simply astonishing, while the effect of the whole orchestra is soft and rich—"music something like produced by our mandolin, only wonderfully more velvety, that fades away to a singing whisper or flows into a liquid tone like the sound of zithers in crystal halls."

Thousands of delighted hearers in the large cities have enjoyed this exquisite music.

Now every one can hear it on the Victor.

Three records just issued—made under the personal direction of the conductor, W. W. Andreeff.

MOHLER IS DYING.

S.S.S. A PERFECT CURE FOR SCROFULA

Scrofula belongs to the type of diseases known as blood poison, and is a trouble usually manifested in childhood. It is often an inherited condition springing from some specific disease of ancestors. The ordinary symptoms of Scrofula are swollen glands about the neck, sores and ulcers on the body, scalp diseases, skin affections, weak eyes, poor physical development, etc.

The disease being deeply rooted in the blood, often attacks the bones if the poison is not removed from the circulation, and this should be seriously considered in the case of any child who shows symptoms of having scrofulous blood. Some persons who inherit Scrofula reach maturity before the trouble develops, but being bred in the circulation, the disease is bound to show itself in some form.

Two years ago my infant, 4 months old, developed a scrofulous condition. The enlarged glands of the neck suppurated and discharged pus. The child was treated by a doctor, but did not improve. I put it on S.S.S. as directed by your physician, and it took but a short time for S.S.S. to make a perfect cure.

I inherited scrofula from my ancestors, and was under treatment of physicians for quite a period at different times, but their treatment did not do me anything like the good S.S.S. did last winter when I took it. It builds up the general health in every way, and in addition to being an excellent blood purifier, it adds to its success as a remedy for scrofula.

MRS. LOUISE COHEN.
122 Brownell St., Cleveland, Ohio.

Scientifically, S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, and is perfectly safe for children. If you or your child have any symptoms of Scrofula, begin the use of S. S. S. at once, and get the destructive disease forever removed from the system. Book on the blood, and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

MARY GARDEN TO SING FAVORITES ON OAKLAND VISIT

MARY GARDEN, to be heard at Ye Liberty.

Mary Garden, the most talked-of prima donna of the day, will make her first appearance in Oakland at the Ye Liberty theater next Tuesday night.

Her highly cultivated dramatic ability, no less than her voice and beauty, has earned for her a unique place in the annals of modern music. No operatic character within the range of her voice is too abstruse to be grasped and appropriated by the versatile and energetic Miss Garden, and she has associated her name forever with opera of the Neo-French school, a real feat in this day of many aspirants for like honors and manifold opportunities for making good operatically.

ALL HARD WORK.

"But it's all hard work," declares Mary. "People talk a great deal about native talent, but it is much too often a native capacity of good energetic digging. I have no patience with singers or any other persons who are forever 'grazing' overtaxing themselves. Look at the prima donnas who refuse to sing more than once a week. It's perfect nonsense. I can sing seven times a week if it's necessary."

Among the numbers to be sung by Miss Garden at this concert will be the aria from Charpentier's opera "Louise," in which she made her first success in Paris, the aria from Puccini's "La Tosca," and a number of charming songs in French, German and English.

Signor Tibaldi, the violin virtuoso, and Mr. Howard Brockway, the eminent American composer-pianist, will be the assisting stars. By special request, Miss Garden will sing the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria" with violin obligato.

ACCUSED DENY CAMORRA CHARGE

Alleged Assassins of Cuocollo Show Scars to Support Claims of Innocence.

VITERBO, May 19.—The two men denounced by Giacomo Ascritore as the assassins of Gennaro Cuocollo and his wife, were given a chance to face their accuser today, and verbally defend themselves at the trial of the Camorristas. After Enrico Alfano and other alleged members of Camorra had been arrested on suspicion of having released on the intervention of the priest, Ciro Vitozzi, who said he had learned of their innocence while performing his office of confessor, developed that Ascritore had charged Tommaso de Angelis and Gaetano Amedeo as the murderers.

These men, though known criminals, established alibis and Vitozzi and Ascritore were arrested, charged with conspiracy against them and also with an attempt to shield the actual assassins. De Angelis and Amedeo are now charged with being active members of the Camorra, and Ascritore as an accomplice in the murder of the Cuocollos.

Ascritore today confirmed his earlier testimony, repeating the circumstances which, he said, had led him to believe that the men were innocent. He declared that at one time De Angelis had shown him a dagger, saying: "With this Cuocollo will be served."

The accused denied the allegations. President Bianchi instructed De Angelis to bare his leg and show again to the jury and to the medical experts the wound, which, according to Ascritore, was received from Cuocollo when the latter was fighting for his life. De Angelis related the scar was from an injury received in prison in 1904, the wound having reopened in 1908.

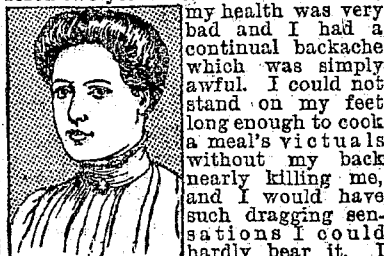

GOTHAM GAMBLERS RAIDED BY POLICE

NEW YORK, May 19.—Eleven men under arrest today and a wagon load of card tables, ice boxes and other paraphernalia are the fruits of a series of raids on alleged gambling houses. The raids were the first since Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty assumed charge of the detective bureau eighteen days ago. Arrests were made of the men under such warrant names as "John Doorkeeper," "John Dealer" and "John Proprietor."

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—MRS. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

WAR DECLARED ON LOAN SHARK

New York Manufacturers and Philanthropist to Aid Wage Earner.

NEW YORK, May 19.—A campaign to rid New York and other large cities of "loan sharks" has been launched by executives of sixty-five leading New York manufacturing corporations and philanthropic institutions. They will spread broadcast among employers throughout the country a program for the discouragement of the industry. The substance of the program follows:

"Don't discharge your employees when served with an attachment of his wages; give him another chance."

"Disregard the attachment if served more than three days after the making of a loan and it will not be binding."

"Establish and encourage co-operative savings and loan associations among your employees if possible."

"Enact the enactment of laws permitting lenders of small amounts to charge reasonable rates higher than 6 per cent now authorized and bringing all lenders under the supervision of the state."

HEALTHY YOUNG WAR STARTED BY DOG MEAT

DALY CITY, May 19.—Over 10 cents' worth of dog meat there has arisen here a question of the rights of an American citizen, the law has been invoked and a political upheaval precipitated. Threats and counter threats are breathed.

Town Trustee P. P. Mullen has a dog and A. Della has a butcher shop. Mullen bought 10 cents' worth of meat for the dog from Della's butcher shop this morning, the sale being conducted by Della's assistant. With the meat, Mullen went to a restaurant to have the dog's dinner prepared. Della was eating his breakfast in the restaurant at the time, and, after having bought the meat with the cook, he walked over and "hefted" it.

"That," said Della, "is more than 10 cents' worth of dog meat. I'll take it back."

Now Mullen vows he will charge Della with petty larceny in unlawfully lifting 10 cents' worth of dog's meat. Della says he will do something of the same kind.

FACE DISFIGURED WITH ECZEMA

Covered with Eruption to Back of Ears So They Hardly Knew What He Looked Like. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In 4 Weeks Face Fine and Clean.

"Our little boy Gilbert was troubled with eczema when but a few weeks old. His little face was covered with sores even to back of his ears. The poor little fellow suffered so much. The sores began as pimples, his little face was disfigured very much. We hardly knew what he looked like. The face looked like raw meat. We tried little bags of cloth over his face to prevent him from scratching. He was very restless at night, his little face itching so much."

"We consulted two doctors at Chicago, where we resided at that time. After trying all the medicine of the time, and at any rate, we read of the Cuticura Remedies, and at once bought a box of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Following the directions carefully and promptly we saw his face clear up, and after four weeks, the dear little boy's face was as fine and clean as any little boy's face. Every one who saw Gilbert after using the Cuticura Remedies was surprised. He has a head of hair which is a pride for any boy of his age, three years. We can only recommend the Cuticura Remedies to everybody." (Signed) Mrs. E. Albrecht, Box 853, West Point, Neb., Oct. 22, 1910.

Oakland to Have the Only Large Automobile Manufacturing Plant on the Pacific Coast

To Be the Center for the Manufacture and Distribution of the Most Important Home Product in California

WITHIN A FEW WEEKS THERE WILL BE ESTABLISHED IN OAKLAND ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES IN THE UNITED STATES. IT WILL MEAN THE ADDITION TO THE CITY OF HUNDREDS OF SKILLED EMPLOYEES AND HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS ANNUALLY TO THE GENERAL BUSINESS REVENUES.

HERE IS THE FIRST MODEL OF THE NEW OAKLAND HOME PRODUCT.

$1750, COMPLETELY EQUIPPED

The factory is to be located on High street and the S. P. railroad tracks, in Melrose. It is a two-story reinforced concrete steel frame building formerly used by the Oakland Cotton Mills and the floor space is approximately 50,000 square feet. Very little alteration is needed to make it ideal for the manufacture of automobiles.

At the present time California stands second in the use and purchase of automobiles, New York ranking first. Practically all of these automobiles are built in the East and shipped to this market. Manufacturing statistics show that California spends and sends to Eastern automobile manufacturers nearly $12,000,000 annually. Much of that can be kept at home and used to foster the trade that naturally belongs to this coast, through labor, house rents, material and supply houses generally.

The profits will no doubt be sufficient to keep the capital stock at a high premium.

The new corporation is known as The California Motor Car Company and is capitalized for $250,000, divided into that many shares at the par value of one dollar each. About one-half of that amount has already been subscribed, and from the interest already shown the balance will be taken up in a short time.

The men at the head of The California Motor Car Company are well and favorably known about the bay and are devoting their entire time and attention to the best interests of the corporation. As an investment the stock in this new manufacturing enterprise will earn surprisingly good dividends. It is not often that the general public is invited to invest in stock in automobile manufacturing and stock in old established companies is never offered for sale.

Investigate fully the opportunity that is offered you to become associated with one of the best-paying manufacturing plants on the Pacific Coast, and if your investigation proves satisfactory make an early application for stock.

Subscriptions for stock will be received either at the Union Savings Bank, Oakland, the Bank of Fruitvale, or at the main office of The California Motor Car Company, Kohl building, San Francisco. Telephone Douglas 2749.

Permission has been given to use the following letter from the investigating committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce:

To the Board of Directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce:
Your committee, appointed to investigate the proposition of the establishment of a plant in Oakland by the California Motor Car Company, respectfully reports that we have given the matter careful consideration and are convinced of the reliability of the gentlemen interested, and of their determination to establish an industry here which will be of great benefit to Oakland, involving a large expenditure of money in the plant and the extensive employment of labor.

We believe that the establishment of a factory by the California Motor Car Company in Oakland will be the beginning of an important feature in the manufacture of motor cars and accessories, and feel that the undertaking is in the hands of men of financial responsibility and experience in the manufacturing line and is one which is worthy of the endorsement of the Board of Directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce as a most desirable enterprise to be secured to this city.

Very respectfully,
THE COMMITTEE.

(Signed)
C. J. HEESEMAN,
GEORGE B. RANDOLPH,
GEORGE B. WADDELL.

LITTLE DANGER OF JAP INVASION

Congressman Knowland Presents Figures Showing Decrease.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—That more Japanese are leaving Hawaii and the United States than are entering the country was told the house yesterday by Representative Knowland of California. Knowland submitted department of commerce and labor figures to show that from July 1, 1908, the Japanese entering the United States numbered 7661, against 14,199 leaving the United States. In Hawaii there were 4348 arrivals and 6288 departures.

"This does not look like an invasion," Knowland said. "In view of the interest shown on the Pacific coast when the recent Japanese treaty was up, these figures should be of interest."

PLAN BIG WAREHOUSE.
STOCKTON, May 19.—Plans have been completed for the largest slough warehouse in the West, to be constructed in this city. It is to be built by the Farmers' Union, will have a frontage of about 600 feet on Stockton channel and extend back from the waterway 150 feet. The floor will be of asphalt, and the owners have contracted not only for a fireproof structure, but it must be rat and waterproof.

Hospitable Oaklanders a Unit

Welcome.

The Best Is None Too Good for Them, and Everything Is of the Best.

The opening session of the grand council of the United Commercial Travelers took place this morning at the order's headquarters at Pythian Castle, Twelfth and Alameda streets. Over five hundred members of the order were present when J. A. Enquist, Grand Counselor of the Pacific Coast Jurisdiction, opened the session. The council adjourned at 1 p. m. for luncheon and convened again at 2 o'clock for the afternoon.

At the preliminary caucus last night at Pythian Castle it was clear that the fight for the supreme delegates would be won by J. A. Enquist of San Francisco, Oscar F. Kline of Los Angeles and Oscar Boldemann of San Francisco. The final results, however, will not be known until late, as other important business of a secret nature is being taken up by the council. It is probable that Los Angeles will win the convention for 1912, and J. L. Krambach is likely to capture the position of grand counselor. He is a Fresno man.

FIGHT FOR CONVENTION.

The importance of getting the right man as supreme delegates to Columbus, O., where it has been the custom to hold the national conventions, is that an effort is being made to break the rule and have the national convention in 1912 held in San Francisco at the time of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The members of the Pacific Coast jurisdiction of the order have declared their intention to make a continual fight between now and 1912 for holding the convention in the fair grounds. For that purpose the question of appropriating $50,000 for the building of an auditorium and headquarters for the "grip men" on the exposition grounds in San Francisco will come up at this session of the grand council. The matter was preliminarily discussed at last night's caucus.

WOULD USE FREIGHT TRAINS.

The question as to whether commercial travelers would not derive great advantages in their movements about the country if they were allowed to ride upon freight trains came up for discussion this morning and the following grievance committee took up the matter with the railroad: H. C. Jaeger of Los Angeles, E. N. Clintman and D. E. Wassermann, both of San Francisco. At present it is against the rules of the railroad companies to allow passenger travel on freight trains. The following credentials committee was appointed: F. J. Wandray of San Diego, R. D. Holmes of Oakland and George Marks of Fresno. In the course of business attended to the financial committee reported the finances of the organization in first-class condition.

Up to noon the registration of delegates to the convention had surpassed the expected number of a substantial margin and the ladies' entertainment committee was kept busy greeting the lady visitors who are accompanying their husbands. The entertainment committee took possession of a room adjoining the grand council chamber during the morning and helped out the general air of hearty welcome which Oakland is giving to the visitors. On the committee are the following ladies:

Mrs. W. C. Hamilton, Mrs. N. B. Hagin, Miss E. Hagin, Mrs. C. C. Pedlar, Mrs. E. J. Mercereau, Mrs. G. A. Nissen, Mrs. T. Christ, Mrs. W. K. Hicks and Mrs. E. Schmidt.

IDORA PARK PARTY.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon a large party of the visiting ladies were taken to

Every council of the Pacific Coast jurisdiction is represented at the convention, among them being the Golden Gate Council No. 80; San Francisco Council No. 420; Sacramento Council No. 140; San Diego Council No. 406; Oakland Council No. 394 and Los Angeles Council No. 82. A smoker will be given at Murphy's hall tonight at which some of the speakers will be Mayor Frank K. Mott and ex-Governor Pardee. One of the features of the welcome being extended to the visitors is the scripbook, which contains coupons admitting the holder free to Oakland's leading theaters and to the amusements at Idora Park.

A luncheon was served in the main dining-room of the St. Mark Hotel between 12:30 and 1:30, at which all the visitors were present. It was quite an informal affair and no regular toastmaster presided, the large party being seated at many small tables. There were over three hundred of the commercial travelers and their guests present.

Following the luncheon the councilmen returned to Pythian Castle to adjourn for the afternoon session and the ladies of the party gathered at the headquarters prior to leaving for Idora Park for the afternoon.

Says Mrs. Baker's Will Should Stand

Statutes Should Not Operate to Set Aside Her Disposition of Estate.

BOSTON, May 19.—That the intent of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy in devoting the bulk of her property to Christian Science purposes cannot be set aside by any statute limiting gifts to religious organizations is one of the principal contentions of Attorney General James Swift, in his appearance filed in the probate court in one of the suits involving the status of the Eddy property in Massachusetts.

No Cash on Check Baird Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—A warrant was obtained in the police court today against Miles H. Baird, formerly a well-known clubman, millionaire and tennis expert, charging him with the violation of section 478A of the Penal Code. The complaint is Charles Colas, a chauffeur, of 250 Guerrero street, who claims to have driven Baird and his wife all over town and that he was paid for his services in a check for $400 on the Wells Fargo bank. The check was returned, there not being sufficient funds to meet it.

ACCUSES COURT OF USURPATION

Representative Booker Criticizes
U. S. Supreme Tribunal
on Floor of House.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—"It was a usurpation of power on the part of the Supreme Court of the United States to put the word 'reasonable' into the antitrust law after Congress had refused to so amend the law," declared Representative Booker of Missouri, in the House today during the discussion of the New Mexico and Arizona Statehood resolution. He said he did not want to criticize the court, but he agreed with Justice Hurley, and he had a right to express his individual opinion. Asked whether he would favor the recall of the three Democratic judges who joined in the opinion if the power to recall applied to the Supreme Court, Mr. Booker said he would not, as he trusted the wisdom of these men to correct a mistake as soon as they had the opportunity.

PRESBYTERIANS OBJECT TO CUT

Attempt to Reduce Number of Directors Meets Opposition in Assembly.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 19.—The report of the executive commission recommending the conclusion of important boards of church government, home missions, church erection and missions for freedmen was presented to the Presbyterian general assembly today and aroused strong opposition. The idea of consolidation is by reducing the number of directors and clerks to cut down expenses and to facilitate the transaction of business. The reduction plan eliminates thirty-eight men, cutting the combined directorate from sixty-eight to thirty. Opponents of the consolidation claim there is no more than enough work for the sixty-eight men and that it would be a bad precedent to make the change.

IRONWORKER SET UPON BY ROBBERS

Charles McLaughlin Empties
His Pockets to the Quartet;
Nickelodeon Patron Loser.

Charles McLaughlin of 355 Fifth street, employed in the Oakland Machine Shops, at Second and Washington streets, was set upon by four men while passing a lumber yard near the Bay City Iron Works, about 11 o'clock last night and robbed, after the quartet had nearly choked him into unconsciousness. McLaughlin lost about $250.

Sara Cline was the victim of adverse circumstances when he fainted in a Broadway nickelodeon yesterday afternoon. When he recovered he declared $6.50 which had been in his pockets was missing. He gave his address as Hotel Raymond, San Francisco.

Loat valued at $70.90 was stolen from the hardware store of Brittain & Co., 908 Broadway, late Wednesday night by a thief who pried open a rear window. Four dozen peace handled pocket knives were taken, valued at $30, and 90 cents was removed from the till.

LENIENT SENTENCE FOR FIRST OFFENSE

Ed Riley Escapes With One
Year in Prison on Burglary Charge.

Judge J. E. Prewitt in the criminal department of the Superior Court this morning sentenced Ed. Riley, convicted of attempted burglary, to one year in San Quentin. The conviction was burglary in the second degree, but as it was Riley's first offense and as he was intoxicated at the time, the district attorney asked the court for leniency, which was shown in the small sentence.

The attorney for Charles Sells, convicted of forgery in signing a draft for $500 with the name of Mary Williamson, in whose lodging house he had been living, and who was up for sentence this morning, informed the court that a motion for a new trial would be made. The matter will be considered next Tuesday morning.

MORE OPEN AIR SCHOOLS DESIRED

Anti-tuberculosis Society Interested in Plans of Proposed New Buildings.

The Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, of which Rev. Clifton Macon is president, is interested in the fact that a number of new school buildings are now to be erected under the new bond issue. The society naturally wishes to encourage as many "open air" single school rooms and even whole school buildings as possible. In order to make its influence felt a committee of the society was appointed to consult with the school authorities and leading architects to bring before them some of the latest ideas on the subject of open air schools.

At a meeting, May 16, in the office of the superintendent of schools, it was found that much information had already been gathered by Mr. McClymonds. Statistics were quoted to show the excellent results of the open air school room in Fruitvale, maintained by the board of education for the past year. Various kinds of windows were examined, plans for one-story school houses with rooms opening on arcades.

It was decided to appeal to the improvement clubs and mothers' clubs centering about the proposed buildings to lend their support. On Thursday members of this committee, with Dr. Foster, visited the Fruitvale open air school, and two of the school buildings under construction in Alameda.

BODY OF WATCHMAN FOUND IN ESTUARY

The Disappearance of Charles Wiseman From the Old Steamer Amador Solved.

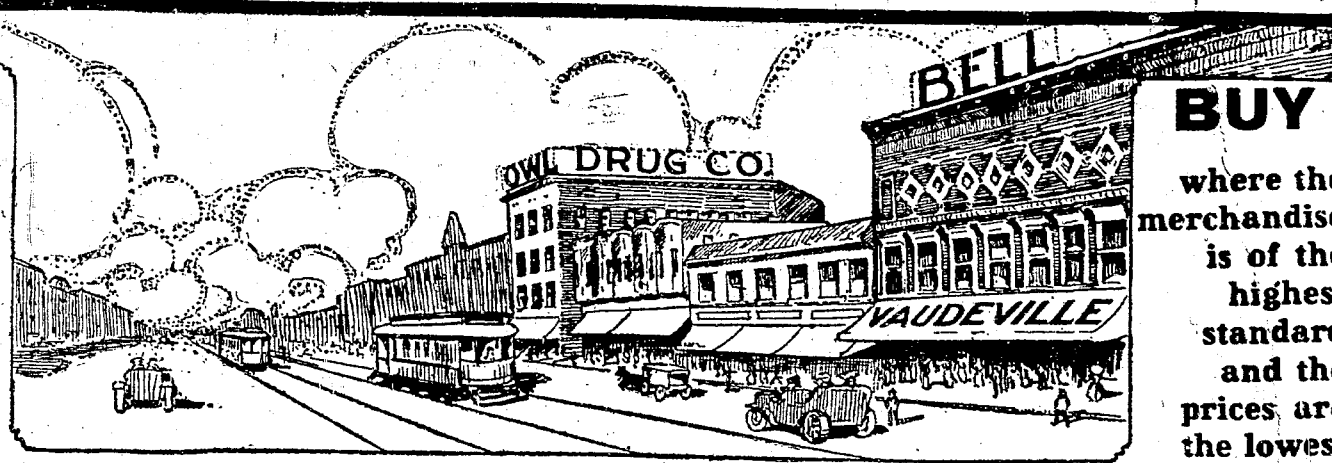

Charles Wiseman, who has been boat-keeper for the University of California's training boat Amador, anchored in the estuary near Clinton station, for the past four years, fell overboard Wednesday and his body was recovered from the estuary this afternoon.

It was not known what had become of Wiseman until the floating body was found this afternoon by R. McClamich, and identified by one of the college boys who train at the Amador. The body was floating a short distance from the training boat.

Wiseman was 60 years old, a native of Germany, and before being appointed by the University Boat club a watchman, was a sailor. He had no relatives, as far as known.

HAYWARD, May 19.—Mystery surrounds the burning of the home of Robert Theines, on the Foothill boulevard, shortly after 8 o'clock last night, and owing to the fact that Theines is the contractor working on the new dwelling owned by M. J. Connors, which was recently partially destroyed by fire, the authorities are straining every point in their power to locate the person responsible for the two conflagrations, thinking them the same parties.

At the time the Connors home was set fire several nights ago it was hinted that there existed a great deal of ill feeling between two or three contractors and builders in Hayward, and that the fire was set by one of these, Constable Rammage, and a posse of deputies have been working on the case for the past few days, but as yet have been unable to secure any clue.

The fire in the Theines home last night started some where in the upper story and before Theines, who was alone at the time, could sound any alarm the building was almost totally destroyed. It was at first thought that crossed wires were responsible for the flames, but it was later learned that the wires had been cut near the gutter of the roof. A long stepladder was taken from the back yard for this purpose and later replaced.

The loss will be about $8000, which was partially covered by insurance.

LA FOLLETTE AND BRONSON IN CLASH

Indulge in Heated Colloquy at Hearing on Canadian Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Following a heated colloquy between Senator LaFollette and Leonard Bronson of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association at today's Canadian reciprocity hearing, a declaration by Bronson that the conservation policy of Theodore Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot worked for the benefit of the lumber trust and forced up the price of lumber, was stricken from the record. Bronson had also declared that the withdrawal by the government of large tracts of timber lands was the chief cause of high prices of lumber.

Senator LaFollette demanded to know what authority Mr. Bronson had for these assertions. This, Mr. Bronson refused to answer, and after a series of questions by Senator LaFollette both the assertion and the ensuing colloquy were expunged, on motion of the senator. President Taft is opposed to amendments to the reciprocity agreement, no matter who is their sponsor. It became known today that the President looks with disfavor on the proposed amendments of Senators Root and Lodge, two of his personal friends and close advisers. Mr. Taft believes the agreement should go through Congress as it was adopted. He will make his fight along that line, no matter what Republican leaders attempt to do.

Two Swats Over the Fence by McArdle and Weaver Bring Disaster to Kilroy

HOME RUNS BRINGS DEFEAT TO KILROY AND OAKLAND

McArdle and Weaver Boost Ball Over Fence; Pearce Gets One, but It Is Not Enough

By BERT LOWRY.

Oakland lost to San Francisco in the third game of their battles for the week's series on the ball field yesterday and it was over-the-fence swats that forced the Oaks back into third place. Orville Kilroy, the rejuvenated Oaklander, was opposed to Frank Miller, the rejuvenated San Franciscan, and these two fought like a couple of big leaguers for fame and glory on the diamond.

Both allowed five hits and both received support that would have passed criticism in the major leagues. Timely home-run swats, though, brought the fight of defeat to the Oaklanders. Two of these were made by the Ewinglites, McArdle getting one in the opening round and Weaver another in the fourth. The last run McArdle made in the sixth inning wasn't needed.

Oakland was striving all the time and hit almost as well as the Seals, but wonderful support and wonderful pitching in the tight places kept the fighting Oaks from reaching the run column. McArdle managed to dent the scoreboard once at that, and the run they made came from the bat of Pearce, and it too went far out of the lot for the circuit.

McARDLE HITS FIRST BALL PITCHED.

Shaw started for the Seals and hit a long fly to Hoffman in left. When the wallop left the bat it looked good for a couple of bags but Issy made a clever stab of the ball and Shaw was out of the way.

McArdle was next and he poked out the first ball Orville sent up to the plate as a likely one to hit. He hit it all right and far away and out of the lot over the left field fence it went.

Miller went after the boys like a world beater and fanned five of the six men that faced him in the first two innings. In the third he wobbled a wee bit and Kilroy got a dandy double to left and but for a little over-anxiety might have reached third. Powell, though, relayed to Vitt and nipped him.

WEAVER DUPLICATES McARDLE'S SHOT.

Weaver was the first Seal to the firing line in the fourth inning and he gave the San Francisco bugs a chance to belch long and loud by poling the pellet in the same spot as did McArdle.

In the sixth round San Francisco grabbed another home run and the Seals were left with a hole in the left field. Write all the letters you want and roast all you want, but Finney was to the bad yesterday just as Danny said he was the

AMERICAN ATHLETES ACCEPT ENGLISH CHALLENGES

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 19.—Harvard and Yale will tonight formally accept the challenge of Oxford and Cambridge for the English cricket games to be held in London next July. The Americans will ask, however, that the games be held two weeks later than July 6, the date suggested by the Englishmen. It is not believed that this will cause any hitch in negotiations.

The main reason for urging the later date is that it is not believed that adequate transportation for the large squad of athletes can be secured on the ocean liners in June, when the tourist travel is unusually heavy.

CALIFORNIA ATHLETES TO COMPETE IN A. A. AT PITTSBURG

The greatest aggregation of track and field athletes that ever left this state to compete against the cracks of the country will be sent by the Olympic club to take part in the A. A. U. championships at Pittsburgh in June. Thirteen men will comprise the team that will wear the winged "O," and if the San Francisco stars can retain the form which they have consistently shown during the past season the chances for California annexing a national title are surely promising.

In the team that will go east are several stars who on past performances, should make the eastern cracks fully appreciate themselves. Two world's champions, Ralph Rose and Lee Scott, are included in the list, and they should have little trouble winning their events. Rose has been doing his usual work, but local enthusiasts are not so worrying, as the Heidelberg giant is so far ahead of any of the weight men in the country that his winning seems a certainty.

Ed Benson, the crack hurdler and high jumper, Allen, the broad jumper, and Wood, the miler, all of the University of California, will join the team after the conference meet in Chicago.

Walter Christie, who will accompany the University of California athletes to the conference meet, will also have charge of the conditioning of the Olympians.

After the conference meet, the Chicago games will journey to Pittsburgh, where he will immediately establish a training camp near the city.

Wyman and McCauley, the crack quarter-milers, are in training, and should do well.

Al Plaw, the husky weight man who, next to Rose, is one of the best hammer throwers and shot putters that has ever been turned out of this state, will leave with the team.

Ole Snedgar, hero of more exciting track meets than any other graduate of the University of California, is again back in the athletic field. Snedgar is an all-around star, and, aside from being a crack sprinter and field man, is tossing the javelin in championship form.

Morris, Horne and Bellah, who have worn the cardinal "S" with such great success, will be in the Olympic team. Morris has been showing great form in the hurdles, and has several times beaten Besson over the high stile. Horne, in form, should easily place in the high jump. Bellah is a veteran in the pole vault, and was a member of the American team at the Olympic games in London.

Pete Gerhart, who has represented the Olympic club in the sprints in several championship games, will again don the spikes.

President William F. Humphreys and Secretary Fred M. Fenwick will be in the east on business at the time of the meet, and will assist in managing the tour.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS ARE FIT AND READY FOR FIELD MEET

Santa Clara and St. Mary's colleges are on edge for their third annual track meet which is to be held tomorrow afternoon at the stadium of the local college.

Both teams have trained faithfully and are confident of victory. Santa Clara rooters are banking their hope of victory on the star men of their track team while St. Mary's has a well balanced team to offset this advantage.

The meet will start promptly at 2:30 and will be run off in fine shape.

The first race on the program is the mile and both teams are claiming a victory in this race. Dad Moulton, who is coaching the Santa Clara's, is confident that either Leake or Teal of his school will win, while Coach Frank Vogt of St. Mary's, has it doped out that Vaughn, the present record holder, will promptly get his heels to his opponents and that his team mates, McDonald and Scholten, will be closing behind him.

The 100 yard dash will be another close contest between Best of Santa Clara and De Benedictis of St. Mary's. The local runner captured this event last year but was disqualified for alleged interference. He went the century in 14 seconds, 11 hundredths.

Both teams are also strong contenders for Santa Clara while St. Mary's has entered some good men in Leonard, Roth, Mallen, French and Cecil. The mile will have practically the same entries.

In the 440 yard dash St. Mary's looks to have the better chance with Martin, the present record holder in 57 seconds. Doran and Latulipe and Stoltz will also compete. The last runner finished second in 1:01.40.

WOLGAST AND BURNS PICK JACK WELCH AS REFEREE

Both Youngsters Continue Training and Should Be Fit for Hard Battle

By EDDIE SMITH.

When Billy Jordan, candidate for a seat on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors and most famous of all announcers of boxing contests, introduces the young men who will battle for the lightweight championship of the world one week from tomorrow afternoon he will also announce, "the Honorable Jack Welch will referee this contest." That John should act as third man in the ring was settled last evening when Promoter Coffroth had Jones and Perkins on the phones at his office.

JIM BRITT WANTS ANOTHER CHANCE AT BAT NELSON

NEW YORK, May 19.—"Jimmy" Britt, once the lightweight champion of the world, is going to make a try for the title again. "But first of all," he said, "I want a return match with another former champion—'Bat' Nelson."

Britt stepped ashore today with a commission from Hugh McIntosh, the Australian promoter, to offer Jack Johnson $25,000 for a fight next September with the winner of the Mo'yer-Langford bout.

It so happened that on the day of Jones and Wolgast's arrival from the south Jimmy was out of town and the referee question was put off for a few days.

Frankie Burns' manager, Jack Perkins, has been ready at any old time to make the selection, but he has felt all along that there would be no trouble over it, as he had declared many times that any fair minded man who would be satisfactory to Jones would suit him.

In Coffroth's office there are two phones, one a Home phone and the other a Pacific States. Coffroth was talking to Perkins over the Pacific States when the bell on the Home rang and the millionaire office boy employed by the promoter announced Tom Jones on the phone.

Coffroth then held the receivers of both phones and by talking first to one man and then the other the selection of Welch was made. It was identical with the one mentioned several days ago.

The only other name mentioned was that of the writer and the objection to him was the fact that he lived in the same town with Burns, rather a silly objection, but a sufficient reason at that.

SELECTION OF WELSH IS GOOD ONE. The selection of Welsh should prove highly satisfactory to both boxers and public, for there is no gainsaying the fact that Jack is proficient and that he is honest and square. What more can the public ask or demand? Jack, like any other human being, may make a mistake, and he wouldn't be much account if he didn't, but any time he does, it will be of the mind and not of the heart. No man wants to be fairer than Welsh and for that reason his selection should be satisfactory.

Yesterday afternoon at the Seal Rock House the little champion did his first sparring for the match with Burns. He boxed three easy rounds with "Hobo" Dougherty and went through several gymnasium stunts before a well filled symposium. Wolgast is not in his best condition right now by any means, but he gave evidence of being able to get into it with a few days' hard labor by his work of yesterday.

The champion, however, has all to the good and since the days of Kid Lavigne. When the kid was at his best he was the roughest and toughest little fighting machine the game had known up to that time and the other side of sports very promptly and correctly added the "Pine Knot" to his many other pet names.

Now we have the little fellow that some have dubbed the Milwaukee Wildcat as the champion and he is identical with Lavigne, with the exception of being just a few pounds lighter and not quite as aggressive.

When it comes to strength and endurance of however, he is all to the good and with a very little training he will be ready for a tough battle with young Frankie Burns.

NO TROUBLE MAKING WEIGHT. The weights of the young men who are to engage in the exchange of blows for the lightweight championship are at the following:

The school is expected to play Rugby football during the coming season. Athletic Director R. J. Graham and Director Frank Beck will be in charge of the new game. J. Stetson was elected captain and manager.

Concerning that STANDARD OIL decision, it is my opinion that all RESTRAINT OF TRADE is unreasonable.

The selection of Welsh should prove highly satisfactory to both boxers and public, for there is no gainsaying the fact that Jack is proficient and that he is honest and square. What more can the public ask or demand? Jack, like any other human being, may make a mistake, and he wouldn't be much account if he didn't, but any time he does, it will be of the mind and not of the heart. No man wants to be fairer than Welsh and for that reason his selection should be satisfactory.

Yesterday afternoon at the Seal Rock House the little champion did his first sparring for the match with Burns. He boxed three easy rounds with "Hobo" Dougherty and went through several gymnasium stunts before a well filled symposium. Wolgast is not in his best condition right now by any means, but he gave evidence of being able to get into it with a few days' hard labor by his work of yesterday.

The champion, however, has all to the good and since the days of Kid Lavigne. When the kid was at his best he was the roughest and toughest little fighting machine the game had known up to that time and the other side of sports very promptly and correctly added the "Pine Knot" to his many other pet names.

Now we have the little fellow that some have dubbed the Milwaukee Wildcat as the champion and he is identical with Lavigne, with the exception of being just a few pounds lighter and not quite as aggressive.

When it comes to strength and endurance of however, he is all to the good and with a very little training he will be ready for a tough battle with young Frankie Burns.

NO TROUBLE MAKING WEIGHT. The weights of the young men who are to engage in the exchange of blows for the lightweight championship are at the following:

The school will also endeavor to get Fremont school and Boone's army to again take an active part in the affairs of the sub-league.

The school is expected to play Rugby football during the coming season. Athletic Director R. J. Graham and Director Frank Beck will be in charge of the new game. J. Stetson was elected captain and manager.

Concerning that STANDARD OIL decision, it is my opinion that all RESTRAINT OF TRADE is unreasonable.

JACK WELCH IS TO BE THIRD MAN AT THE BOXING BOUT

this time causing little or no worry to the trainers or managers. Wolgast weighed in yesterday at 125½ pounds after his workout, and Frankie Burns was just under the 126 pound mark. Strange as it may seem, both Burns and Wolgast are doing all in their power to keep the weight up to the present notch, in fact Wolgast would like to take on a few pounds. Burns, with three pounds to come off, wants to stay at that figure until within twenty-four hours of the battle, when he will dry out and reduce to the required 126 pounds. With the weights giving little to worry over, the referee decided upon and the prospects of a good house as strong as they are at this time, Promoter Cottrich can now sleep easy until the day of the contest.

KIRKWOOD AND RIVERS PICK REFEREE.

George Kirkwood and Joe Rivers finally agreed upon Eddie Hanlon as the referee for their four-round scrap to which the Greenland Rink and with this part of the tangle settled the last hitch in the match has been done away with. Joe Levy, manager for Rivers, wanted to have either men the Hanlon act, but as they refused he finally consented to accept the former lightweight. Hanlon has always appeared to be no reason to think he will give Rivers and the worst of the deal. The contest will draw an immense house, for the fans here are exceedingly anxious to see Rivers in action.

In Los Angeles they are already preparing what they say about the little Mexican when he is the champion of the world and they confidently predict that it is but a few months' time that separates him from the title. Kirkwood will try to take his place in the estimation of the fans by winning the bout of tonight and for that reason the four rounds indulged in should be four fast and hard ones.

Our Oakland friend, Lew Taylor, will try to come back tonight in a four-round contest with another coming back, right Joe Willis. The big fellows are to meet in the special event, and as both have been training with more than ordinary care, the battle should be a fierce one (meaning fast and hard-fought), and what you thought the first time. The remainder of the card as arranged by Promoter Schuler has the appearance of being one which will be productive of some good milling.

The West Oakland Club will hold their next night of boxing Wednesday evening, May 24, and have signed for the occasion as the main attraction, Danny Webster and Freddie Webster. Webster has not appeared in Oakland since he boxed Harry Baker here, but since that time he has had several battles at Los Angeles. Danny is always pleasing to the eye of the boxing fan, for he is always trying and his work in the ring is clean-cut and honest.

In the special event Yulijuro Watanabe, the Japanese boxer who has been creating a sensation about the bay, will be pitted against Young Turner, and in the first bout of six rounds Henry Hickey will meet Eddie Gibbs. Besides these three six-round contests there will be three four-round preliminaries.

SENATORS FAIL TO QUIT. SACRAMENTO, May 19.—Byram beat the Beavers yesterday afternoon, 3 to 2. The former Princeton pitcher had all the commendation carried by a mound artist and had the visitors on his star wing and the exception of the fourth inning, when they piled up two tallies on three hits.

The Senators played errorless ball behind Byram and their perfect support notched him to a victory. Beards, who was also going good for the McCredie crowd, but threw a fit in the third inning and his teammates could never overcome the lead gained by O'Rourke's clutch. MILLIONAIRE WINS FROM CHESS EXPERT

NEW YORK, May 19.—News has just reached this city of a game of chess in which Eugene Higgins, the New York millionaire, defeated the celebrated Cuban master, in Paris, two weeks ago.

Capablanca was at the time playing a series in the Automobile Club of France. Mr. Higgins took a board against him and at the thirty-third move effected an exchange of queens with an advantage in position and a loss of a couple of pawns to Capablanca, which finally forced the surrender of the Cuban master after forty-nine moves.

FIFTY-SIX AUTOS BURNED.
WINNEPEG, Man., May 19.—Fire destroyed the Central Garage on Water street, containing fifty-six automobiles, causing a loss of $300,000. Two men were badly burned.

THREE ARRESTED ON CHARGES OF FRAUD

FRESNO, May 19.—Three men, R. A. Moore, R. Devore and John M. Norris, who have been representing themselves as agents of the Spokresia Land Company of Trinidad, Wash., were arrested late last evening at the Grand Central Hotel on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The complaints were drawn up by District Attorney Denver S. Church on the statement of A. B. Melhorn, a farmer living near this city, that lots he had obtained from the company did not correspond to the representations on which he had made the purchase and made payments.

ROBBERY REPORTED.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Mrs. John Rushoff of 583 Steuart street, reported to the police last night that her room had been entered and $365 in money and jewelry taken.

To Regain Strength After Malaria

"after-effects" of the disease.

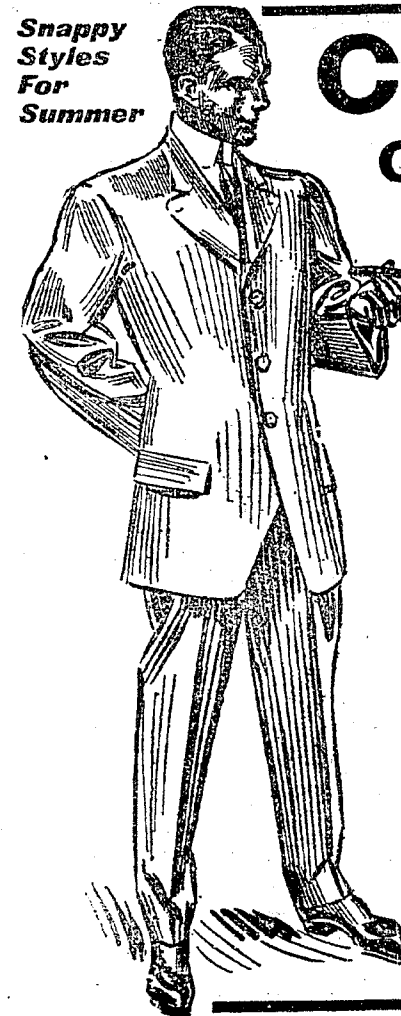

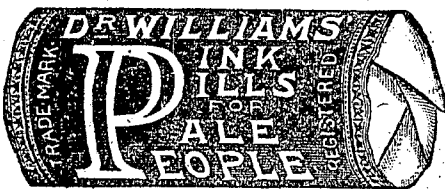

Malaria leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration, and even consumption. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of strengthening the blood and nerves during convalescence.

The tonic used should be efficacious and at the same time safe and harmless for the weakest constitution. Such a remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as this statement proves:

"After a severe attack of malaria," says Mrs. M. D. Anderson, of 3901 Cypress ave., Oak Park, Calif., "I was unable to drive the malarial poison from my system. For more than a year I suffered from alternate chills and fever. Doctors did not help me and I had given up in despair when, on seeing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People mentioned in a newspaper, I began taking them. A few doses helped me and five boxes cured me entirely."

Remember, the remedy that accomplished this cure is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People sold only in packages bearing the full trade-mark as shown below. Pills sold in any other package or loose, by the dozen or hundred, are not the same, whatever the clerk says.

A valuable booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," containing fuller information, will be sent upon request.

FUN IN PLENTY PREVAILS AT THE LOCAL ORPHEUM

BLANCHE NICHOLS, who will appear at the Orpheum Sunday.

Rolling fun in royal measure is the game at the Oakland Orpheum this week, and how the crowds are enjoying the splendid features—that make up the show. One would fancy that the limit of goodness had been reached in the current bill, but if reports from San Francisco are to be believed, a further, snappier and even more delightful bill is coming next Sunday. They say that this program which is due to arrive here Sunday broke all records for laughs at the Orpheum across the bay. The folks are all waiting for it, and next week will accordingly be "laugh week" at the Oakland house.

Bert Coote, the famous English farceur, with his sketch, "A Lamb on Wall Street" will close his engagement Saturday night, as will also Arthur Deagon, Goleman's European novelty and Clay Smith and the Melnotte twins.

The new features next Sunday will include W. H. Murphy and Blanche Nichols in a delightful bit of burlesque called "From Zaza to Uncle Tom." These players have the art of creating laughter down to a science and those who know say that nothing funnier than "From Zaza to Uncle Tom" has ever been put on the stage.

Another big feature will be M. Golden and his Russian Troubadours, a dozen accomplished musicians and dancers from St. Petersburg.

George Jones and Ben Deely will have a lively offering called "Hotel St. Regis." Francis Dooley and Corinne Sayles will be seen in a lively sketch called "Pavement Patter."

On the bill next Sunday will also be Sam Chip and Mary Marble in their artistically musical comedy, "In Old Odam," the marvelous Millers will dance, Clarice Vance will sing and Gladys Clark and Henry Bergman will offer their sketch, "The Baseball Filtration," all in the same bill that appears next Sunday afternoon.

BUSINESSMEN GATHER BY OCEAN

Commission Merchants of the Bay Cities Leave by Train for State Gathering.

More than two hundred members of the Commission Merchants' Protective Association, of which C. F. Carl is secretary, will leave the Third and Townsend street depot for San Francisco at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Santa Cruz, where they will meet nearly that number of members from the same organization from San Francisco and Los Angeles. Members are to catch this afternoon's train will make the trip tomorrow in automobiles.

More than $2000 has been raised between the members of the Oakland and San Francisco organizations for the entertainment of the Southern merchants at the seaside resort and an elaborate jinks performance is scheduled. The Sea Beach hotel will be headquarters of the association and will be open a week ahead of time for the purpose. Among those going from this side of the bay are W. G. Manual, George Hatch, George Fountain, George A. Starr and J. C. Fossing.

OF SUMMER SESSION

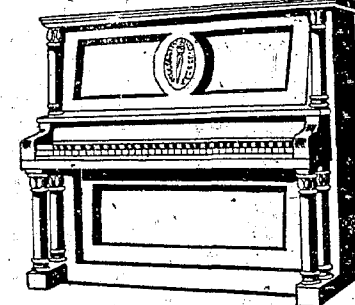

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, May 19.—Following the announcement of the coming of Arthur Foote, famous organist of the First Unitarian Church of Boston, to be head of the department of music at the summer session of the university, interest in the musical work planned has increased, and Prof. Charles H. Rieber, dean of the summer school, is receiving many inquiries from music students. He announced today that music would be made a special feature at the session.

Besides Foote, Frederick E. Chapman, director of music of the public schools of Cambridge, Mass., will be a member of the faculty. Esther Louise Hook, Letha L. McClure, Anna Miller Wood and Mrs. Lauretta V. Svespy complete the department corps of instructors.

PARK BODY ALLOTS CONTRACTS FOR WORK

A meeting of the Park Commission today resulted in contracts for sidewalk and curbing improvements. The most important of which was for the curbing of the recently parked triangle at First avenue and East Twelfth street, to J. E. Sorenson. Another was to Harry E. Williams for a cement sidewalk along the Lake Shore boulevard. Secretary Nelson was authorized to advertise for bids for sidewalk building along Fourth Avenue park, a strip of land recently donated to the city by F. M. Smith.

ARCHITECTS WILL HAVE A BANQUET

Local Club Selects May 22 as the Time and St. Mark's Hotel as Place.

A dinner will be given at the St. Mark Hotel next Monday evening by the Architectural Club of Oakland, which includes draughtsmen not only of this city, but those who live in this city and work across the bay.

Oswald Spear will preside at the dinner, and Mayor Frank K. Mott will be among the speakers, who will also include John Galen Howard, Sullivan Jones, John Donovan, the two latter representing the firm of Eastern architects who have charge of the new city hall; Hart Wood of San Francisco, the president of the club, and Walter D. Reed, one of the directors.

The club has been recently organized by the prominent architects of the city for the purpose of giving an opportunity to draughtsmen to master the business. Classes have been formed, one in design and one in steel work, which have many members. In addition to instruction given, the prominent architects are members of the board of directors of the new organization.

KOWALSKY PICTURES TO BE AUCTIONED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Colonel Kowalsky's pictures, a Russian collection exhibited at the St. Louis fair and later brought here by Kowalsky and held by the government for non-payment of duty, for the third and last time are to be advertised for sale at public auction in a few days. Yesterday was Kowalsky's last opportunity to enter the paintings for duty, but he let the day pass by unnoticed. An expert has been hired by General Appraisers Mattos to appraise the collection.

It was supposed that Frank C. Havens of Oakland was interested in securing the pictures for the art gallery at Piedmont Park, but he apparently doesn't want them.

HOW TO BEAUTIFY YOUR COMPLEXION

"Adding permanent beauty to the face neck and arms is by no means a difficult matter," says Mae Martyn in the Philadelphia Call. "But the greatest mistake which thousands of women make daily is the practice of smearing their faces with powder. This stops up the pores in the skin, causing pimples, enlarged pores and other facial blemishes that are difficult to overcome."

"The best skin whitener and complexion beautifier known to beauty specialists is made by dissolving four ounces spumax in one-half pint hot water with two teaspoonfuls glycerine added. This inexpensive lotion is very fine for clearing up a rough, sallow or sunken skin. It quickly corrects a shiny, lifeless condition, giving the skin a smooth, satiny tone. After once you try it, you will wish to put their use for face powder. It doesn't show or rub off so easily."

MISSOURI STATE TO SHARE IN PLAN

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—State banks and trust companies will be admitted to all the advantages of the projected National Reserve Association, according to a plan of the special committee appointed jointly by the National Monetary Commission and the American Bankers' Association, Currency Committee. The plan was announced by Festus J. Wade of St. Louis, chairman of the important committee.

The scheme provides that state banks and trust companies may, without nationalizing, become members of the National Reserve Association, under practically the same conditions as the national banks.

TRAMWELL MUST RETURN.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 19.—Governor Johnson has honored the papers issued by the Governor of Arkansas for the return of James Tramwell, under arrest in San Francisco, who is wanted in Arkansas for murder. Tramwell has been indicted for shooting Chas. Gregg in Green county, Arkansas, on December 10, 1908.

PRIZES OF $10,000 FOR THREE AEROPLANE RACES

NEW YORK, May 19.—A fifty-mile aeroplane race for prizes of $10,000 designed as an actual racing test for three flying machines of as many different types, will be held in New York this summer if a suitable course can be found and the desired flyers can be induced to enter. The competitors propose for the contest are Earle L. Ovington, Capt. Thomas Baldwin and Thomas Sopwith. Captain Baldwin has flown his biplane at 80 miles an hour. Ovington has a new 70 horsepower Bleriot and Sopwith the English aviator, will fly an English machine.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 19.—Accused of circulating several hundred dollars worth of false coins in this city, N. F. Crutierrez and G. Valenzuela are in jail here and a complete counterfeiting outfit said to belong to them has been seized at Beaumont, Cal., 85 miles distant from Los Angeles.

FOE OF DIVORCE IS HONORED BY EPISCOPALS

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—The Rev. Fredrick F. Johnson, bishop of South Dakota, and a relative by marriage of Bishop Tuttle, was elected coadjutor bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Missouri at the diocesan convention yesterday.

Bishop Johnson, who lives at Sioux Falls, was a leader in the crusade made by religious workers there against the lax divorce laws of South Dakota and it was largely through his efforts that the laws were amended and the divorce colony driven to Reno, Nev.

LIQUOR SELLERS FINED.
PALO ALTO, May 19.—Three illicit liquor dealers, charged with violating the title-and-a-half-limit law at Mayfield, entered a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace S. W.
